Sewer Problems Cause Building Freeze Here

A moratorium on Princeton construction until the town comes closer to a solution of its sewer problems was imposed Tuesday by the state's Department of Environmental Protection.

"I'm really burned up about it!" was Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley's immediate comment.

The Division of Water Resources won't allow any more sewer extensions, a directive which, in effect, cancels out any new buildings. If a builder already has a building permit, site plan approval and subdivision approval, the state will make exceptions according to a letter from Charles M. Pike, director of Water Resources, to the Princeton Sewer Operating Committee.

The letter was sent to nine towns, scattered over the state. They are the first in a series of about 70 communities, according to Mr. Pike.

In the Borough, the only large project — "Queenston Common" — is so far along that the order won't apply. In the Township, the order apparently freezes the 33-apartment Edward C. Kop project and subjects the 100-unit Yedlin public housing project to a kind of double freeze. (See "Topics of the Town," page 3.)

A proposal to build 44 homes on the former Sheehan tract near Stuart Road will also be affected. Princeton Community Housing's 240-unit complex off Terhune Road is, in the opinion of Township Mayor Jay Bleiman, far enough into its plans not to feel the moratorium. Individual home-builders who don't yet have a building permit will have to wait.

The State's View. The state is worried about two things: infiltration of the sewer lines, so that more water pours into the sewage treatment plant than the plant can handle and maintain quality; the condition of the 40-year-old plant itself. It just can't meet new Federal quality standards.

State Water Resources engineers want action on both now. Donald T. Harney, Sanitary Engineer for the Sewer Operating Committee (as well as Borough Engineer), says the state has already approved the infiltration study just getting under way in Princeton. The state now wants a time-table for the various stages of that study.

Engineers in Princeton search for weak spots in the elderly sewer lines by forcing smoke through the pipes. They patch up breaks with grout, or put in new segments of pipe.

They've also been combing the town for illegal house connections — you can't connect storm drain pipes to the sanitary sewer. Eventually they'll send tiny TV cameras through the lines for even finer examination.

Mayor Cawley thinks Princeton is moving ahead with a good infiltration program, and he agrees that Princeton is responsible for keeping its sewer lines in good shape.

Unanswered Questions. But changing the sewer treatment plant is something else. The state wants the quality of the plant improved, but not at too great expense. How much "improvement" and what kind, and how much expense? Exact definitions aren't available.

Mr. Harney is now working on a plan for the sewer plant which he hopes to present in March to the Sewer Operating Committee. If they approve it, he'll show it to Water Resources, hoping for their approval.

But when will the moratorium be lifted? When the state approves Mr. Harney's plan? When construction starts on it? When it's completed? The letter doesn't say.

However, as infiltration is reduced, Mr. Pike said in an interview, the state will allow some construction, judging each application on its merits. But work on upgrading the old sewer treatment plant will have to be totally completed before the ban can be lifted altogether, he said.

In the Future... Eventually, of course, Princeton will be part of the Stony Brook Regional Sewer system. Any work on the Princeton plant, therefore, will be temporary patch-work until the new system gets into operation — a long time away — and that's why the plant is in its present condition.

"Frankly, the state is the one that pushed for a regional sewer system," Mayor Cawley says, "so they bear part of the responsibility for where we are."

Actually, Mayor Cawley doesn't think Princeton's plant is as bad as the state says it is.

"It's operating within its design limits, although at capacity," he says. "I've seen no data to substantiate anything worse than that. Besides, our rate of building here, in both Borough and Township, is low. I can't see anything we'd build contributing that much pollution."

At the instigation of Township Mayor Jay Bleiman, Mr. Pike and his staff met with Princeton officials on January 24 to discuss a rumored moratorium.

Another meeting was held February 14, and the two requirements — work on infiltration and fix up the treatment plant — came out of that meeting.

Mayor Bleiman questions the legality of the moratorium. "Does the state have the right to impose it?" he asks.

Mr. Pike cited the state's authority to grant sewer permits as the legal underpinning for the action.

Mayor Cawley concludes, "I am very discouraged. I'd like to be sure the state is judging everyone by the same standards."

Quake Felt Here

That earth tremor Wednesday morning which reportedly affected an area from Trenton south to Baltimore was felt right here in Princeton. Shortly after it was recorded at 3:23 a.m., a resident of the western Township area called police to report his house had been shaken.

Princetonians were hardly aware of the quake in large numbers, the Township itself got two calls and the Borough one. But residents of nearby towns heard an odd noise, one woman in Pennington going to her cellar to have a look at the furnace.

In southeastern Pennsylvania, the disturbance was listed as 3.4 on the Richter scale, which has a maximum of 10. Quakes of even this intensity are a geological rarity in the east.

of William Evans, school board secretary, about renting part of the school. The Princeton Opera Association would like to locate there . . . and the Council on Community Services . . . the new Commission on Aging . . . the Princeton Arts Council . . . and private schools devoted to children who need special education.

The Princeton Nursery School, lately in the news and limelight (see "Topics of the Town") once asked about Valley Road and even examined the building with the Nursery School architect. But VR didn't have the right kind of space.

Where outside organizations are concerned — aside from the Township itself — we think we should provide space to non profit organizations directly benefitting the town, especially the youth of the town, because this is a public school building Mr. Heymann says. A discussion of priorities — which outsider gets first choice? — may be held by the board in executive session by the end of March.

Stony Brook Available. And what of Stony Brook? A high-shouldered, funny sort of building, perched at the top of an impossibly steep drive-way, it's not in much demand. It was once a school building.

"We've been considering its sale," Mrs. Fox says, "but we've had no offers to buy."

A real-estate agent examined Stony Brook and shook his head. Variances. All the way. Neighbors tolerate its crowded, helter-skelter rear parking lot and its relatively heavy traffic because it's a school building. But they might not be so happy to approve the variance required to make it — say, an office building. In addition, the building is the wrong size for its plot of land, which means more variances.

Mr. Evans thinks Stony Brook would be an excellent one for a special education school because its small offices would make quiet, one-to-one classrooms.

So if your organization has delayed renting space because you have an eye on a sunny classroom facing Witherspoon . . .

THREE ARE HONORED

At Princeton Alumni Meeting. Two well-known Princeton alumni and one of the first girls to enter the University shared honors at the 59th annual midwinter alumni meeting Saturday in Jadwin Gym. Some 1,400 alumni were present, the second largest attendance in 25 years. Marsha H. Levy, 22, one of the group of 105 women who came here four years ago as part of the first coed class, became the first woman to receive the Pyne Prize, the university's highest undergraduate award. Given to the student with the highest academic average, the Pyne Prize carries a cash grant of $3,050.

Philanthropist John D. Rockefeller III, a 1929 graduate of Princeton, received the Woodrow Wilson Award, and Dr. John Bardeen, an alumnus of the University's Graduate School and two-time winner of the Nobel Prize in Physics, received the newly-established James Madison Medal.

In a short speech after receiving the Pyne Prize, Miss Levy pointed out that one qualification for the award had to be changed in order for her to win — "a requirement that the student display manly qualities in his endeavors."

"The University should take heed of us," Miss Levy added, referring to the first woman students. "It should watch where we go, what we do."

Also announced at the meeting was the success of the University's annual giving campaign, which this year "will come close to or exceed the record $3.8 million raised a year ago."

Youth Center Director Charges Three State Police with Assault

Leonard Brown, director of the Princeton Youth Center, said Tuesday that he will file a complaint with the state Civil Rights Commission in addition to the assault and battery charges he has already filed in connection with an incident involving him and New Jersey State Troopers in a Turnpike Howard Johnson's restaurant Saturday night.

Mr. Brown, who has a swollen mouth and eye plus recurring headaches, said a trooper hit him "about 30 or 40 times in the face with his fist" as Mr. Brown lay, handcuffed, on the floor of a State Police patrol car.

The series of events began shortly after midnight Saturday. Mr. Brown and his wife, Doris, had attended the annual Elizabeth Taylor Byrd Scholarship Fund dinner dance at the Greenbriar on Route One. The affair is held each year to raise scholarship money for black Princeton youths.

After the dance, the Browns stopped at the crowded restaurant for a snack. They waited, and after a time a busboy began clearing a table for them. According to Mr. Brown, the assistant manager of the restaurant told the busbay to do some other chore, although the manager was aware that the Browns were waiting.

"A waitress came to clean the table, but the assistant manager told her to do something else, too, and just left us standing," Mr. Brown stated. There was a sharp exchange between Mr. Brown and the assistant about service. Mr. Brown said he pulled off the employee's bow-tie. The assistant, in turn, dropped a plate on Mr. Brown's foot.

"Matter Settled." The manager of the restaurant then entered the dispute. Mr. Brown said he and the manager settled the problem, the Browns were seated and served, and then the police arrived.

"What makes me angry," Mr. Brown said this week, "is that the manager and I had it all settled before the troopers got there."

The troopers demanded that Mr. Brown step outside to talk with them. Once outside, Mr. Brown said, "the troopers started pushing and shoving me."

They used two sets of handcuffs — Mr. Brown is a large man — and put him, face-up, in the back seat of the patrol car. He was arrested on drunk and disorderly charges, and driven to the state police station in New Brunswick.

A spokesman for the New Jersey State Police said Mr. Brown's injuries were caused by his own struggles with the police: "One trooper had to subdue him all the way," the spokesman said. Mr. Brown was also charged with loud, abusive and profane language to the restaurant management, and the police spokesman said he "continued to be abusive" to police in the patrol car.

---

Three Troopers Charged. Mr. Brown, through his attorney, Joseph Stonaker, filed assault and battery charges in East Brunswick Municipal Court against all three troopers. He has not yet identified the one he charges struck him in the face.

The cases are scheduled to come to trial April 5 in East Brunswick.

Both Princeton's mayors reacted strongly to the Brown case. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, who characterized the alleged beating as "incomprehensible," said he had written to Governor William T. Cahill, Attorney General George F. Kugler and Herbert Stern. "I'm sure," he told his press conference, "there will be a thoorough and complete investigation."

The mayor said he had been with Mr. and Mrs. Brown at the scholarship diner-dance. "I left the party around midnight," he related. "Mr. and Mrs. Brown were sitting at the table quietly talking. You couldn't imagine anything less rowdy."

The mayor cited Mr. Brown as a "widely respected leader, working to instill straight ideas into young black kids, showing them the work ethic is good, and that they should deal with society as it exists." Then he added, "I would probably have gotten just as sore about not getting served in a restaurant."

Police Action Inexcusable. In the Township, Mayor Jay Bleiman opened Monday night's Committee meeting with a brief statement referring to the matter as "very grave."

"There is absolutely no excuse for the apparent beating," he told the audience, and he asked those present to "take whatever action you feel appropriate, in Mr. Brown's behalf."

Later, at his Tuesday press conference, Mayor Bleiman said, "No matter what Len Brown said or did, nothing justifies beating. These are Storm-Trooper tactics."

Friends of the Youth Center director, led by Borough Councilman Joseph Moore, have begun a letter campaign, writing to John Kuhlthaw, Prosecutor of Middlesex County; Col. David Kelly, Superintendent of the State Police, the attorney general and the governor.

Township's 100 Public Housing Units Frozen

Princeton Township's 100 units of public housing are still frozen "until further notice."

That was the result of a meeting in Camden Tuesday between Princeton housing representatives and Federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials.

---

When the Federal public housing freeze was first announced, HUD's Camden office told Karin Slaby, director of the Princeton Housing Authority, that the Township's "Yedlin" project (Benedict Yedlin is the developer) had gone far enough to escape the freeze.

Last week, tracking down a rumor that all was not well, Mrs. Slaby again talked with HUD officials, and also with Congressman Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen.

She learned that, although HUD did think all housing applications which had recived preliminary loan contracts would be honored, a later directive had set the sights higher. Now, she was told, no "annual contribution" contracts were to be signed "until further notice."

These are contracts giving enough money, each year, for detailed plans to be made. Princeton's project was approaching that point.

When news of the freeze spread, late last week, supporters of the Yedlin project began a letter-writing campaign, urging New Jersey's two senators and Congressman Frelinghuysen to use their influence toward a thaw for the project.

Township Mayor Jay Bleiman said he had written not only to Senator Clifford P. Case, Senator Harrison Williams and Mr. Frelinghuysen but also to President Nixon, urging reconsideration.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said he, too, had been letter-writing. He also talked with aides of Congressmen Frelinghuysen "who assured me they are going all-out to help us," the mayor said this week. "I can't believe the whole national housing program is going to be dropped. . . . it would be chaos!"

Princeton's new Joint Commission on Aging also petitioned Mr. Frelinghuysen. Fifty of the project's 100 units are set aside for the elderly.

Those who attended Tuesday's meeting in Camden were Mrs. Slaby; Kenneth Rendall, vice-chairman of the Princeton Housing Authority; Mr. Yedlin and Thomas Jamison, attorney for Mr. Yedlin. Philip Sadler, area director for HUD, represented the Federal agency.

PAY TALKS DEADLOCKED Between Police, Council. Salary negotiations between Borough police and Commissioner Joseph Moore have become deadlocked, according to Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt, president of Patrolmen's Benevolent Association Local 130.

Ptl. Lenhardt has charged Commissioner Moore with not acting in good faith. "He's not negotiating, he's simply dictating," he said.

Police are asking for a 7.5 per cent increase for 23 patrolmen and five sergeants. Salaries for lieutenant and chief are not negotiable by the PBA. The Borough has offered a 5 per cent increase, Borough administrator Robert Mooney reports that all other Borough employees have settled for five per cent.

The police contract expired December 31. Since December 5, when talks began between the PBA representatives and Commissioner Moore, there have been five meetings. After a meeting Monday ended in a deadlock, Ptl. Lenhardt requested that a meeting between the full Council and PBA Committee be set to try to end negotiations.

Presently, a Borough patrolman in grade four years receives $12,000. Sergeants in grade receive $13,050.

Asked if he were optimistic about the outcome, Ptl. Lenhardt said that he was to the point that he was not planning any other action other than going to Mayor and Council. "We're professionals; we'll do it in a professional way," he said.

Commissioner Moore, who succeeded former commissioner Arthur Morgan in January, has proven to be a firm adversary. Terming the police demands as "totally unrealistic," he said that he would recommend that Council not meet with the PBA Committee.

Backed by Mayor. He was backed by Mayor Robert Cawley, who said at his Tuesday press conference that Council has no plans for such a meeting. Mayor Cawley emphasized that Commissioner Moore speaks for Council.

"It is significant," Mayor Cawley observed, "that 59 men applied for a recent opening on the force. We must be doing something right. I don't think the police have anything to complain about."

Referring to a statement by Ptl. Lenhardt that Commissioner Moore's offers have been "collectively less" than those first offered by Commissioner Morgan in December, Mayor Cawley said, "It is not true."

"We feel the offer (5 per cent), which is essentially the same as that for our non-police employees, is fair. It is consistent with what other towns — Lawrence, Princeton Township and West Windsor — are offering."

Historically Higher. In past years, police have negotiated for and received higher salaries than non-union Borough employees. Police are the only unionized employees of the Borough.

"We have always given them more. I'm not inclined to give them any more this year," Commissioner Moore stated.

"He's trying to say we're just the same as all the other Borough employees," countered Ptl. Lenhardt. "But they don't say that when it comes time to asking us to serve overtime, pull special duty or act as honor guards. Then we're someone special."

---

Using the $12,000 salary of a patrolman, a 5 per cent hike would mean a $600 raise, $900 is the increase in terms of 7.5 per cent. Ptl. Lenhardt reported that fringe benefits were being discussed as well but he described them as "not being crucial to a settlement."

---

PBA representatives for the patrolmen include Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm. Ptl. Victor Fusanella and Ptl. Wilhelm for the sergeants, Sgt. Ralph Procaccino. Jerome Katz is the PBA attorney.

Commissioner Moore and Mr. Mooney are representing Council. The latter reported that the police had originally asked for a 13 per cent increase. "They say they've come down to 7.5 per cent, but they had a long way to come down from," Mr. Mooney commented.

No new talks have been scheduled, Ptl. Lenhardt said.

HOORAY!

Teams Are Praised. A resolution "heartily congratulating" boys' and girls' basketball teams at Princeton High was unanimously passed Monday night by Township Committee after introduction by Committeeman Sanford Reynolds.

The resolution added its "regrets" to the boys' team for their probationary status. (See page 33.) Applause from the audience followed Committee's action.

Committee learned Monday night that while crime may not pay, keeping crime from the door apparently does. Automatic Communications, Inc., the company that ties in subscribers to the Township police switchboard, asked that its $36 yearly rate to customers be raised to $48.

Responding to questions from Committeeman William Sutphin, John Wheeler of Maxwell Lane, said that $36 a year only keeps the subscriber's light burning on the police switchboard. In addition, Dr. Wheeler said, he pays $6 a month to the telephone company to run a line to the police; $40 a year to Security Guardian Maintenance in Newark to keep things flashing properly in the Wheeler home and initially paid $600 for installation.

"I look on our installation as a community service," he smiled, "because we're scaring burglars away and thereby helping other people." He referred to a burglar who was chased from the Wheeler home by Township police, arriving in response to the switchboard's alarm.

Dr. Wheeler said companies like Automatic Communications resembled public utilities, which come under governmental regulation. He asked for more convincing evidence than the company had already given to prove additional costs were "real."

Since nobody was present from the company, Committee tabled the request.

Activities in open space areas are now regulated, under an ordinance passed Monday night. The Environmental Commission requested the measure.

Prohibited:

—Fires, except campfires and these only by permit.
—All motorized vehicles.
—Guns.
—Littering.
—Picking wildflowers or other plants.
—More than 25 people in one group, except by permit.
—After - dark use of the areas, except by permit.

4 ASSAULTS REPORTED In Borough. Chief Michael Carnevale reported that there were four assault-muggings in the Borough last week, one a vicious attack that hospitalized the victim, and added, "No community can put up with this out-and-out hooliganism.

"We know who is responsible," he continued. "We plan to exert every possible means at our disposal to bring these people to court. If we can make arrests, then it is up to somebody else to assist in the overall protection of life and property in the community."

The most serious attack took place Friday evening at 10 when a 62-year-old man was beaten and robbed of $70 on John Street near Maclean by three men.

The victim was treated at Princeton Medical Center where, Chief Carnevale said, a plastic surgeon was called to repair fractures of the bones of the left side of the face. "This is something more than a 62-year-old man can absorb. This type of assault could very easily turn out to be murder," said the visibly concerned chief.

At this point in the investigation, Chief Carnevale said police did not know what ytpe of instrument had been used in the attack. The victim has since been released from the hospital.

The same evening around 5, a young woman from Pennington was robbed on the Prince-

February, departing with a record of temperature about normal, precipitation well above average but virtually no snow, is giving way to a March that is forecast to be milder than usual.

For the immediate future, a warming trend from the mid-week low around 20, to be followed by the likelihood of rain Friday. A partly sunny weekend is expected, with high temperatures in the 40s.

Nursery School Looks for Land and Rhubarb Begins to Sprout

Usually, when someone insists "it's the principle," it's really the money. But this time, it really is a principle the Joint Recreation Board is fighting hard to preserve.

At issue is the "quid pro quo" or equivalency principle which the Joint Recreation Board seems determined to defend to the utmost. Reduced to its barest essentials, the conflict revolves around the recreation board's insistence that before it will agree to a lease of 1.2 acres of Community Park as a building site for the Princeton Nursery School, it must receive in return some substantial recompensation.

Protagonists in the dispute which is growing in heat and scope are the Recreation Board, the Nursery School, Council and Committee and the Township Zoning Board. Adding to the complexity is the fact that the land is owned by the Township, but under the original charter between Council and Committee which created the Joint Recreation Board, the "control, management and administration" of Community Park was transferred to the Recreation Board.

Mrs. Barbara Smoyer, Committee liaison to the Recreation Board, agreed before a meeting of the Board last week that "the jurisdictional problem is something almost beyond belief." So are the legal questions.

Can you permit one organization to lease land without allowing others? Township and Borough attorney Gordon Griffin and William Sutphin and Abbot Low Moffat, two members of Committee who are also lawyers, are working on the legal intracacies.

Not the Culprit "We don't want to be blamed as the culprit in this," said R. Donald Barr, executive director of the Recreation Department. "We understand the plight of the Nursery School and we sympathize with them but we hope the governing bodies understand ours.

"This is public land that has been set aside for recreation. We cannot give it away without getting something in return. If you give to one, how can you say no to another. Where do you draw the line? We can't establish that precedent."

The Recreation board became alarmed last week when Martin Lombardo, Council liaison to the Board, informed it that Council had unanimously passed a resolution that the parcel of land be made available to the Nursery School without guaranteeing the Recreation Board anything in return. Mayor Robert Cawley said Tuesday that no such "resolution" had been passed by Council but he has written Township Mayor Jay Bleiman that Council fully supports the Community Park location for the Nursery School.

Meanwhile, Nursery School officials had prepared building plans and obtained Planning Board and Site Plan Aproval as required. The school's next stop was the Township Zoning Board, but the latter demurred, saying it would not hear the case until the Nursery School obtained a letter of consent from the Township, agreeing to lease the parcel to the school. Unless the applicant owns the land or has permission from the owner to build, the Zoning Board said it could not hear the application of the Nursery School, which needs a special permit. The school would lease the land from the Township for $1 a year.

That left the ball in the Township court. At his press conference Tuesday, Mayor Bleiman said that he expects Committee to introduce the enabling ordinance Monday along with the Nursery School lease. A public hearing will then be held either March 19 or early April.

"Committee," he said, "has not made up its mind on the question. They are asking about the precedent involved." Committeeman Moffat has said that he was opposed to diverting open space to other uses.

Resolution Passed. To restate its feeing as sharply as possible, the Joint Recreation Board drew up a resolution which it unamimously approved and presented Monday to both mayors and Council and Committee. "In order to protect public land under our jurisdiction (we) stand behind our insistence that the "quid pro quo" concept be maintained," it read in part. "Protection and the use of this land for public recreation is a responsibility that has been entrusted to the Board by the community. . . ."

At the same time, Dr. Benjamin K. Silverman, chairman, land acquisition and capital projects for the Joint Recreation Board, sent a letter to Mrs. Sally Sword, president of the Nursery School Board, recapping the events that led to the present impasse and reaffirming the board's resolve that the equivalency principle be maintained.

Swap Falls Through. The Recreation Board and the Nursery School became enmeshed last summer when the School had sought to use the vacant former Miss Fine's School gym but had been turned down by Council for parking and zoning reasons. "Council also felt the gym was not an ideal location and the School, itself, realized this," Mayor Cawley said.

Meantime, the Recreation Department was looking for a site to conduct social and recreational programs. When the gym became available again, Councilman Lombardo suggested a reciprocal agreement: the Recreation department give up a parcel of its land in exchange for Miss Fine's gym. The board listened, liked the idea and agreed.

However, the Recreation Board's share in the agreement fell through when Council decided that it would be too costly to renovate the gym to the specification drawn up by the Recreation Board. In addition, the Recreation Department also faced the same parking and zoning problems, plus spirited opposition from neighbors on Boudinot Street.

All right, the board said, if we can't have the gym, how about starting with some phase of the development on the north side of Route 206. Last week, Mr. Lombardo told the Board that Council did not feel it was feasible. Too expensive. "We didn't feel ready to invest in the north side.

"Council didn't just throw away your principle of getting something in return," insisted Mr. Lombardo. "Money was the major reason in both decisions—the gym and 206."

"Committee already has appropriated money for capital improvement of the north side," reported Mrs. Smoyer—adding, "this is one more plea for consolidation." Mr. Barr commented later that had the development of the north side begun earlier, it could have received 50-50 matching funds from the government. With the freezing of all government spending, this possibility has passed.

"We're not trying to be obstructionists," said William Armiger, chairman of the Join Recreation Board last week, who reported that neither mayor had bothered to answer a letter he had written to each in January in which he discussed the board's position on three aspects of the nursery school: expansion needs of the school, use of Community Park as the best possible solution and the quid pro quo principle.

"All we're trying to do is maintain a principle that shouldn't be set aside and doesn't have to be." It's a valid principle." Before he finished, a note of asperity had invaded the mild-mannered chairman: "We don't like to be treated as if we had no say in this, as if we were just a bunch of clowns who meet here once a month."

No More Encroachments

In a memorandum addressed to Committee, Rosemary O'Brien, chairman of the Township Environmental Commission urges that if Committee decides to let the Princeton Nursery School occupy a portion of Community Park, a declaration be made that further encroachments of public open space be avoided.

The Environmental Commission reaffirms, she wrote, "the principle that open spaces are acquired for the general benefit and cannot be dedicated to particular needs, however worthy." She foresaw the possibility of open parks becoming the site of firehouses, hospitals, police stations, schools, apartment houses, parking lots and so on, as available sites become scarcer and more expensive.

"It would be folly," she concludes, "to engage in piecemeal bargaining away of vital natural resources which preserve the ecological balance and provide community recreation."

ton University campus near the admission's office. The investigation being conducted by Det. Timothy Huizing has encountered some problems, Chief Carnevale reported. "But it is proceeding and very possible an arrest will be made."

Two other attacks took place Monday night within a few minutes of each other.

At 9:54, four young men assaulted a young man and took $15 from his female companion as they were walking on Witherspoon Street. Police have warrants for the arrest of two men and two juveniles, as a result of the investigation by Det. Thomas Michaud and Det. Huizing. The young man was not injured.

Three minutes later, police received a report that an elderly man had been attacked and robbed around 9:20 at the intersection of John and Clay Streets by three young men. The victim lost $56 but did not require hospital aid, police said.

Chief Carnevale said that he believed that the same persons were responsible for both attacks. Asked if he thought the attackers may have been drug addicts, Chief Carnevale replied that it was a possibility but he tended to think drugs were not involved.

Arrested for Assault. James Hall, 21, 148 Witherspoon St., was arrested last week by Det. Huizing who charged him with assault and battery.

Hall allegedly assaulted Jerry Crawford February 13 on Maclean Street. He faces a hearing in Borough court.

PRINCETON MAN CHARGED

With Forging 3 Checks. Elmer D. Gilbert Jr., 110 Witherspoon Street, has been charged with forging three checks with a total value of $225 at the First National Bank of Princeton.

Police said that the blank checks had been stolen from William Byrd of Castle Howard Court. Detective Thomas Michaud signed the charge.

In addition, Mr. Gilbert has been charged by Detective Timothy Huizing with possession of marijuana and possession of a stolen ID card. He faces a hearing Wednesday in Borough court.

Trenton Man Charged. Township police have charged a Trenton resident with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana.

Theodore O. Turner, 31 was stopped by Pfl. James Vandermark Thursday on the Great Road during a routine motor vehicle check.

Police report finding in the glove compartment a small pipe which had a black residue in its bowl. It was sent to the State Police labs for identification. Turner was later released in his own recognizance after being issued a complaint summons.

AT DEDICATION CEREMONY: Sonford Roeser (right), chairman of the board of trustees of the Chopin School, with President Emeritus Robert F. Goheen of Princeton, inspecting the laboratory in the new wing of the school which was dedicated Sunday.

FIVE ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Five Princeton area residents were fined $15 each by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough Traffic Court Monday.

They are Leora M. Decker, 54, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, obstructing passage; Ingrid Skalicky, 29, Plantation Apartments, failure to yield. Penny A. Powell, 17, Princeton Pike, careless driving; Kenneth B. Cook, 23, 2 Hamilton Avenue, unlicensed driver; and Arthur L. Fein, 41, 43 White Pine Lane, speeding.

In Township court last week, Judge Tams fined John J. Smithson, 27, 255 Mt. Lucas Road, and Richard T. Orr, 19, 26 Montgomery Avenue, Rocky Hill, $15 each for careless driving.

John P. Gorman, 75, 128 Cedar Lane, paid $15 for a stop sign violation.

WE ENDORSE....

For Governor. Two Princeton political leaders, one for each party, have announced their endorsements of candidates for governor with an eye to the June 5 primary elections.

W. Harry Sayen, Mercer County Republican Chairman, is four square for Governor William T. Cahill. Anne Martindell, state Democratic Vice-Chairman, has come out in favor of Richard J. Coffee.

The Cahill endorsement was a unanimous one by the full Republican County Committee which was, in turn, endorsing the GOP executive committee. Charles Sandman is expected to oppose Governor Cahill in the primaries.

In making her announcement regarding Mr. Coffee, Mrs. Martindell said that she will take a leave of absence from her Democratic party job in order to campaign for Mr. Coffee. He is Democratic Chairman for Mercer County.

Mrs. Martindell is a stalwart of the liberal Democratic wing and her endorsement strengthens Mr. Coffee in that quarter. Another Democratic primary candidate, Assemblywoman Ann Klein, had hoped for the Martindell nod of approval, but Mrs. Martindell said she supports Mr. Coffee because of his experience in government administration and for his part in opening the party to minority groups, including women. She also cited his support for campaign fund disclosures.

MOTH COUNT UP?

Township on Alert. Gypsy moths have invaded more than twice as many acres in the Township as last year's state survey showed, and a state-sponsored spray program could have a total cost of $28,000, it was learned this week.

The estimated toll in Township acreage is 3-4,000 acres, compared to a 1972 aerial estimate of 1,745. Current cost of spraying is $7 an acre, according to Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini. Federal funds would re-imburse the Township one-half the cost, and state funds one-quarter. The remaining one-fourth would be borne by the municipality.

State inspectors are still mapping and no final, definitive report is yet ready. The Township is chafing for a final report so spray money can be included in the new budget, which is scheduled for adoption a scant three weeks from now.

Spraying is not required by the state, and Township Committee could decide not to join the spraying program, Mr. Nini said. So far, the Township has set aside only about $1,800; the original overall estimate for a spraying program was $7,000.

The northern part of the Township is most heavily infested, in the areas around Cherry Valley, Herrontown, Stuart and The Great Roads. Masses are usually found on oaks, but maples, beeches, willow, linden, hemlock and apple are also favorites.

BIRTHS

Nineteen Born. Eight boys and 11 girls were born last week in Princeton Medical Center.

Boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Matson, 58 Gardenview Terrace, Hightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Taggart, 121-C Northgate Apartments, Cranbury, both on February 19; Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McAdam, 82 Sandhill Road, Kendall Park, February 20; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jackson, Somerset, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kuchla, 18 Edwards Place, both on February 21; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Read, 14 Vannoy Avenue, Pennington, February 22; Mr. and Mrs. Jack I. Plittman, 4 Leshin Lane, Hightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Walter Jr., Main Street, Imlaystown, both on February 23.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Maxey, 129 Mechanic Street, Hightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rigg Jr., 25 Allen Drive, Allentown, both on February 20; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Adrian, 388 Morrison Avenue, Hightstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic S. DRIVE GOES WELL

For Bach Mai Hospital. Princeton residents of all ages fanned out from the Center for Peace Education Saturday and brought back contributions totalling from $1,200 to $1,500 to aid Bach Mai Hospital in North Vietnam.

They went door-to-door to more than 300 homes in the Borough and Township, along streets and in the shopping center, asking funds for North Vietnam's largest hospital, completely destroyed by a series of B-52 raids in December.

In addition, approximately 100 more baked cakes which were sold at the University Store to aid the drive.

According to Nina Alexander drive chairman, one of the most rewarding aspects of the drive was the enthusiasm and dedication of the volunteers, and their ability to communicate this to many of the people they called on.

In some cases, whole families went together. One group consisted of a grandmother, her daughter, and the three-year-old granddaughter in her stroller.

Mrs. Alexander emphasized that although the local Bach Mai drive was a success, more monies are needed for North Vietnam's main teaching hospital.

The national campaign is being conducted by Medical Aid to Indochina, Cambridge, Mass.

Anyone who wasn't home Saturday may make out a check to the Bach Mai Hospital Emergency Relief Fund and send it to the Center for Peace Education, 163 Nassau St.

ANTIQUES AHEAD

At Wellesley Show. The Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey will hold its 14 annual Princeton Antiques Show at Princeton Day School Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 22, 23, and 24. Proceeds will go to the Wellesley College Development Fund, and the May Margaret Fine Scholarship Fund, which helps support girls from the Princeton area attend Wellesley.

Thirty-four dealers will exhibit, bringing collections from as far north as New Hampshire and as far west as Illinois. Collections will include paperweights, American Indian artifacts, weathervanes, antique silver, antique toys, household artifacts and rare furniture.

Show hours will be from noon to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday, March 22 and 23. On Saturday, March 24, hours will be noon to 5 p.m. A panel discussion "The Care and Feeding of Antiques," by antiques experts from New England will be held Friday, March 23, from 10:30-11:45 a.m.

Luncheon will be served from noon to 2 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and a sandwich luncheon will be offered Saturday during the same hours. Snacks and light refreshments will be available daily from 3 to 5 p.m.

A cocktail party and preview of the collections will be held Tuesday evening, March 21, from 6 to 9 p.m. Guests may study the collections individually and discuss them with the dealers. Patrons of the show are invited to the cocktail preview without charge.

Tickets. Patrons' tickets, at $7.50 per person, entitle the holder to attend the cocktail preview and to re-enter the show as often as desired until closing time Saturday afternoon. Admission to the cocktail preview for non-patrons is $5, payable at the door, and good only for that evening.

Regular admission at the door Thursday, Friday and Saturday is $2 and $1 for a child, 7-12 years of age. Children 6 years old and under will be admitted free of charge if they are closely supervised by an adult. ANNIVERSARY THURSDAY

For Meals on Wheels. Meals on Wheels, which was started by the Council of Community Services as a pilot project and then transferred to the Red Cross for future administration, will mark its first anniversary this Thursday. During the year, more than 2,500 meals have been delivered to 60 men and women who because of age, physical handicap or convalescence have been unable to prepare adequate meals. While most of the seven original clients are still purchasing meals, the average number served per day has nearly tripled.

Meals on Wheels is operated entirely by volunteers. The committee which planned the project under the Council of Community Services included Laura Stevens, Janet Pearson, Libbie Johnson and Marn Allen. With its permanent status under the Red Cross, the committee has been expanded to incude Ann Brown, Helen Hoadley, Robert Mellinger and Blanche Barnes.

Mrs. Barnes, the newest member, is food supervisor at Princeton House, where the meals are prepared, and works closely with the program. Mrs. Johnson is Meals on Wheels Chairman.

Daily Delivery Teams. More than 40 volunteers participate as delivery teams. Marn Allen and Helen Hoadley alternate responsibility every other month for scheduling the assignments. Ann Brown is in charge of training new volunteers.

Meals on Wheels continue to serve the United Fund—Red Cross area—Princeton Borough and Township, Hightstown, Cranbury, Griggstown, Kingston, Plainsboro, Rocky Hill, East and West Windsor Townships, Montgomery and parts of Lawrence and Hopewell Townships.

The fee for a hot lunch and cold supper, delivered every Monday through Friday around noon, remains at $2.50 per day.

Rosedale Road Repaving at Least 2 Years Off

Office workers, car-pool drivers and just plain motorists who negotiate daily the obstacle course that is Rosedale Road learned this week that they will probably have to wait two years before the pock-marked road gets much better.

Rosedale is a Mercer County road. The county's Assistant Engineer of Highways, Roland Kruger, said this week that his staff is working on plans to widen Rosedale to a 50-foot-wide, four-lane road between Elm and Carter, and to build a completely new road, replacnig the patch-work surface that now exists. The roadway is now about 22 feet wide, expanding to 38 feet at the Stony Brook Bridge. The project would cost about $1 million.

But it will probably be 1975 before construction can start, Mr. Kruger said. Mercer County Freeholders must first give their approval, and the assistant engineer said he expected funds to be set by July 1 of this year.

Then the engineers will work on final, detailed plans which could be completed by 1974. Construction could begin in 1975. Rosedale, of course, is only one of several county roads.

The project is a difficult one, the engineer explained. The stretch from Elm to Carter is long — over two miles — and it involves a bridge. Widening the present 38 foot bridge cartway to 50 feet would probably mean removing sidewalks, perhaps relocating them outside the bridge. Also, the county must obtain the necessary rights-of-way for the widening project.

Meanwhile, winter's potholes are treated with cold patch. In late March or early April of this year, Mr. Kruger's office expects to get out with hot material, which is a better, if still temporary, repair medium.

HEAR MOZART

In "The Tempest," Music adapted from Mozart's "Magic Flute" will accompany the action in McCarter Theatre's production of Shakespeare's "The Tempest," due to open this Thursday night.

Mozart himself always felt a strong link between the philosophy he expressed through his music, and that expressed by Shakespeare in "The Tempest." At one time he planned an opera based on the play, but it was never completed.

McCarter's music has been adapted from the Mozart score by Patsy Rodgers. "The Tempest" director, Louis Criss, says that her music "belongs to Prospero's island."

TRANSITIONS . . . .

From Triangle. Five one-act plays that grew from Princeton Triangle Club's new series of workshops, will be presented this weekend in the Truck Stop Theatre of Wilson College on the University campus.

"Transitions" consists also of a 15 minute audio - visual presentation. The five short plays are all student-written.

Opening night is this Friday, with presentations this Saturday and Sunday and next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, all at 8 p.m. Admission is $1.

MUSICAL AT PRISON

Inmates Enjoy Production

"The Me Nobody Knows," a Broadway musical based on the writings of ghetto children, was presented at Trenton State Prison last week by the Bucks County Theatre Company.

The play, adapted by Princeton resident Herb Schapiro, traces a day in the lives of inner-city youths. It takes them from school, to the streets, to the internal darkness of their lives. The show, which originated in Trenton in 1969, ran both on and off-Broadway.

The eight cast members, ages 7 to 20, were warmly received by the prisoners.

"We got a pure reaction from the men," said Mr. Schapiro. "They responded to the play's 'humor of crises' in their own way and their reaction was wild and very moving."

One inmate said, in a note slipped to Schapiro after the show: "Dear Members of the Show, this was one of the realest, beautifullest, well-performed and well acted shows we have seen here in sometime if not ever."

There was concern by prison officials that the men wouldn't sit still and watch "little kids" frolicking about, but one prisoner, who works on the inmates' monthly newspaper, said the men behaved better than they have at any of the other shows brought to the institution.

The musical was taken to the prison by Mercer County

Community College as part of a cultural and community service. "The Me Nobody Knows" will be presented at the Bucks County Playhouse this Saturday at 11 a.m. and next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. and next Wednesday, March 7, at 2 p.m.

FIVE FILM NIGHTS SET

At MCCC. A Friday night film series begins this week at Mercer County Community College. Showings are held at 7:30 p.m. in the Wilson Windsor campus theatre.

Three comedies on the schedule: "Horse Feathers" (Marx Brothers); "Two Tars" and "Dirty Work" (both Laurel and Hardy).

Future films are: March 9 — "M.A.S.H.", "The Critic" and "The Violinist; March 16 — "1984" and "Animal Farm;" March 23 — "African Queen" (Katharine Hepburn) and "A Perfect Day" (Laurel and Hardy), and March 30 — "Frankenstein" and "King Kong."

All films are free to MCCC students. General admission is 50 cents.

. . . AND MR. TOAD

"Wind in the Willows." The well-loved animals from the bottom-lands around the willows will appear on stage at John Witherspoon School next Saturday, March 10, at 2:30 p.m. in the Pennington Players Children's Theatre production of "The Wind in the Willows."

The Johnson Park School PTO is presenting the event. Tickets are on sale at Allen's, 134 Nassau, and the office of the school. Admission price is $1 for adults and 75 cents for children.

The four friends, Mole, Rat, Badger and Toad, have made thousands of other friends in the past half-century since "The Wind in the Willows" was written. The bashful mole, emerging from his dark home into the spring sunshine, will be Gloria Nouri; wordly-wise Rat will be Ina R. Wilner; Stuart Mindlin will be Badger. The boastful yet endearing Toad will be Don Williams.

Others in the cast are Stephen Metalits, Bill Agress, Carol Durazo, Vickie Fabrizio, Karen Cerequas, Gary Loveman and Leigh Shaw. A chorus of Weasels will consist of Claire Lewis, Laurie Lentz, Beckie Schutz, Danny Durazo, Lisa Durazo and Lynn Delgado.

Jack Rees is directing. Mary Ann Salvatore is producer. Other members of the technical staff are Jean Delgado, Carolyn Lloyd, Bruce Deverell and Tom Tippit.

MOVIES SHAPE VALUES

Film Committee Says. "We feel that a constant diet of movies condoning sadistic violence and illicit sex will have a detrimental effect on our youngsters during their formative years," the Family Film Committee said this week.

Mrs. Robert E. Clancy, spokesman for the Committee, added, "How long has it been since you have seen a film which promoted honor, integrity, fidelity or love of family—values we want to inculcate in our children."

serts a weekly notice of suggested films in TOWN TOPICS, has found a note of agreement in a recent editorial in the Wall Street Journal, titled "Violence and the Human Spirit." "It reflects our belief that the films are forming the values of society today—especially for youngsters," Mrs. Clancy said.

The editorial Mrs. Clancy referred to notes in its commentary, "In recent weeks publications have told of a youth who claimed to be motivated in his brutal behavior by the movie 'Clockwork Orange' and a young prostitute who claimed she embarked on her promiscuous career after seeing how much fun Jane Fonda had as a prostitute in 'Klute.'

"We would tend to minimize both explanations, since no one influence is usually sufficient to influence behavior drastically and since it's a human trait to rationalize aberrant behavior. But we also think it would be wrong to absolve the arts of any responsibility for the current cult of violence and sadism, for the nihilism and perversity that are frequently passed off in such pseudo-psychological terms as 'realism' and 'alienation.'"

The Princeton Family Movie Committee is interested in comments by postcard from anyone who has found its weekly advertisements helpful.

PUPET SHOW SATURDAY, Third Performance Added. Lovable Forest Friends' puppets will entertain children this Saturday, at the First Presbyterian Church.

The puppet skits will include Peter Rabbit, Little Red Riding Hood, The Bunny and The Duck, and Where's My Mother? Tickets are 75 cents for the added performance at 1:30. Since seating capacity is limited, call 924-5480, 921-8049, or 452-2434. Performances at 10 and 11 a.m. are sold out.

The Forest Friends Puppet production is sponsored by the Presbyterian Cooperative Nursery School.

Time to Run (now playing) is a film about the silences between people. It centers on young Jeff, played by Randall Carver, who looks with teenage skepticism upon his father's business success.

Rebellious, he runs away—in his private camper — and has a variety of experiences, even attending a Billy Graham meeting. Barbara Siegel is the youth's girl, Michelle, who plays life straight and eventually helps the troubled family.

Ed Nelson, of TV's Peyton Place cast, is the father who is more successful in managing the power plant than he is in his family relationships.

THE WHOLE EARTH CENTER keeps growing and changing, adding new natural and organic foods as they develop or are improved upon. Deaf Smith's new granola, for instance, or blueberry honey.

IT'S NEW To Us

"AFTER THE FALL" And Other Products. The Whole Earth Center if one of the natural food stores whose success reflects the rebellion against artificial flavorings, chemical preservatives and the use of pesticides on growing crops. It opened in a tiny room on Nassau Street opposite Cox's, and has grown in customers and scope since then at its present location in the Princeton Plaza, 260 Nassau Street.

The offerings change, improvements are made, new ideas come along. Whole Earth offers the Columbo yogurts, made with natural flavors, such as real strawberries. Hot dogs are nitrate free. There's a new kind of granola from Deaf Smith to try—a blending of many grains and honey.

As far as honey goes, Whole Earth can sell you blueberry honey in bulk just bring your own jar, and save a few pennies. Also honey with the pollen still in it as well as honey still in the comb.

From Shiloh Farm ham-burger buns, an item Whole Earth hasn't carried before. Bakery goods now include macrobiotic bread, cinnamon buns, black bread, and a baking mix that is wheatless for those who are allergic to wheat.

Browsing the shelves, we had plenty of company from old and young alike. A small boy checked the lid on every barrel. People scanned the paperbacks in the sunny corner at the front of the store.

Whole Earth offers two new types of salad dressing, French and Italian dressings made by L&A and by Norganics. There are mustards, tartar sauces and horseradish on the shelves these days. Just like everything else in the store the aim is to offer foods that are (as much as is possible) natural and organic.

You'll find that Whole Earth Center has recycled paper in its Nature Notes stationery, packaged attractively and featuring nature drawings. The shop has natural sponges, too, and declares they last longer.

We noticed that steaks are among the frozen meats. And there is a lot of new fruit juice to sample—a new papaya concentrate, Heinke's black cherry juice and others, a couple of kinds of fresh apple juice include one called "After the Fall."

Among the barrels of flours and nuts in the center of the shop, there are some blends for cereals and breads. The shop also carries raw mixed nuts these days.

In an effort to save money all around, The Whole Earth Center is now buying peanut butter and safflower oil in bulk. Bring in your own containers.

The variety is quite tremendous flat egg noodles, dried baby lima beans, bulk spices and herbs. A new line of teas, including old fashioned sassafrass. The new rice cakes, made by Arden, are always fresh.

Among the cookbooks, "Flavors of India" and "International Herb Cookery."

GIRL STUFF AT EDITH'S

Rev Up For Spring A quick dip into Edith's at 10 Chambers Street will refresh your color bank after winter's subdued tones. Edith has found zingy little prints by Vera in sleek body shirts; soft pastels in the art nouveau mood; quirky and enchanting fabric patterns in bathing suits, in hostess dresses, in robes.

Blue and white scribble pattern in a Vera body shirt of nylon tricot, long sleeves, and a flowing tie neckline. From Lily of France, body shirts in a more tailored mood and in soft tones, such as aqua. The fabric is marvelous Qiana.

Think spring in blooming prints, such as touches of yellow, orange and shocking pink against white in bikini and bra lingerie, in matching nighties. Or yellow-and-blue flowers against a spring green background in a low front bra, edged in a narrow line of lace; matching bikini, half slips and so on.

To solve the knit tops and pants problem, wear Edith's seamless bras in double-knit

PROGRAM CUT BACK

By Recreation Department. Because of financial limitations dictated by the 1973 budget allocations, the Princeton Recreation Department announces that the Littlebrook Saturday program will be in operation from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. rather than 10 to 3.

The department also announces that because of previous commitments by the Princeton Regional Schools, the program will not be in operation on March 10.

The 1:30-4 sessions will run through March 31. For additional information please contact the recreation office at 921-9480.

VARIANCE RECOMMENDED

For Hair Styling Shop. The Borough Zoning Board last week voted to make a favorable recommendation to Mayor and Council that they grant a use variance to Robert Leone to operate a hair cutting salon at 203 Nassau Street.

Mr. Leone told the Board that he would open his shop as soon as Council acts on the recommendation, probably at its March 13 meeting. He said that the salon would have only one chair and that he would do all the cutting and styling himself.

Mr. Leone, who also has a shop in Trenton, estimated that he would have one appointment every 45 minutes. His salon will serve both men and women.

The site at the corner of Charlton was occupied at one time by Male's Book Store. Mr. Leone needed a variance because he was changing a non-conforming use from retail to service.

In the only other case to appear before the board, the real estate firm of Stewardson-Dougherty, 366 Nassau Street, was granted conditional use authorization to convert a second floor apartment in its building to office space.

Mr. Dougherty told the board that his firm would occupy the office. There was no opposition to the conversion.

FOUR ARE FINED

In Criminal Court. Four persons were fined last week in Borough criminal court by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

William H. Quillian of Lawrence Apartments was fined $20 for shoplifting in Davidson's Market; Edward C. Quimby of Pennington paid $50 for selling alcohol to a minor and Richard S. Littleton of Huntington, Pa., paid $20 for discharging a firecracker in the Borough last November.

James Hutchinson, 46 Sturges Way, was fined $25 for assault. He pleaded not guilty. A counter-complaint of assault by Mr. Hutchinson against Margaret Hutchinson, was dismissed. Mrs. Hutchinson also pleaded not guilty.

It's New To Us

Qiana. In white of beige, in A to D cup sizes. Another version has the very low front. (About $9). And also see the bra slips and the body suits, all no seam.

Edith has halter bras which you can convert. Choose soft yellow with a bit of eyelet embroidery at the top. Also in other black, white, beige.

Paulside, Sport. The new bathing suits range from sensational to demure, from tank suits to bikinis to halter tops to one-piecers in several versions, including the kind where you can wear your own bra underneath. (From $20).

Two piece swim suit in a swirling pattern of blues-green and-white offers bikini pants or pants to the waist. The same choice holds for most of the two-piecers, assuring perfect fit as well as a choice of style. Bikini tops come in B,C,D and DD sizes, Edith told us, and some have zippy shirts to match such as a bright yellow, red and orange print.

We saw a lovable halter top version in a print of blue-and-American Beauty red. The matching cover-up has a sailor collar. Among the one-piecers, a sunny garden print with a kabuki coat to match. There's a built-in bra and the pants are separate. For a change from matching fabrics, see the long cover-up of white polyester, a slim thing with a hood, a front zip to the knee and long slit below.

Edith has some fresh ideas for the hostess,—a Banton caftan in Easter flower colors, with a fitted waistline in the front, secretly held by an elastic under the flowing fabric at the back. Another is tapered slightly at the ankle, in an English garden print ($42).

For the hostess, too, a low neckline top and along skirt in a most unusual pucker knit, set in stripes of pink and soft green.

Robes, ever fascinating at Edith's, include a fresh cotton blend in small nosegay print, accented with a line of solid green next to saucy pleated ruffle of white net at the neckline, the long front and around the hem. The belt is a front tie. This is very freshly Victorian in mood and beauty.

Two gowns by Olga caught our fancy. White elasticized lace at the waistline of a pink gown gives a delicate and graceful line to the skirt; ruffled straps hold the gathered bodice at the shoulders ($16); another in blue, has long sleeves cuffed in lace, repeated at the edge of the square neckline. A medieval look is added by the insert of lace that binds the gathers in the upper sleeve. ($22).

And for a final bit of flare, Edith's pastel print gown in a sheer tricot, with nude netting to the waist in the back. The skirt is yards and yards wide.

No one is refused service because of inability to pay full fee. Contributions from Kiwanis, Soroptomists, Princeton Polychrome Press and individual donors are available for payment subsidies. A ruling by the U. S. Department of Agriculture now permits the use of food stamps by persons over 60 for the purchase of Meals on Wheels.

To apply for Meals on Wheels or volunteer to help, call Ann Honore, Executive Director of the Princeton Chapter of the Red Cross, at 924-2404.

COLLECTION BEGUN

For Books for Wilkes Barre. Volunteers in the Red Cross Youth program of the Princeton Red Cross have begun their collection of books for schools and homes in Wilkes Barre where they are desperately needed by families trying to organize and restart their lives.

One Red Cross Youth member recently visited the flood-stricken area, and reported that rebuilding of homes has only just started. Much help is still needed by the residents to return to normal living. Therefore, the Red Cross Youth workers are trying to collect hundreds of books to help these people.

They have put boxes for donations in locations throughout the Chapter area: in Princeton, the Princeton Bank & Trust and First National Bank on Nassau Street and the University store; in Hightstown-East Windsor, the East Windsor Library, the Memorial Library, and the Colonial Bank on Main Street; in West Windsor, the Princeton Junction Post Office and the Dutch Neck Library; the Kingston Post Office, the University Store in Lawrenceville; the Montgomery Township Municipal Building; the Cranbury First National Bank.

Boxes for the collection were donated by Bohren's Moving & Storage in West Windsor. Meanwhile, many elementary schools in the area are also collecting books through their Red Cross clubs and organizations. Those wishing to donate books should bring them either to the collection spots or locate a school where the drive is taking place.

After the books are collected, Red Cross Youth will take them to Princeton Borough Hall, where other Youth volunteers will sort, organize, and pack the books for shipment. On March 17, the local unit of the US Army Reserve will take the books on to Wilkes-Barre.

LIBRARY PLANS PROGRAM

On Drawing Cartoons. On Wednesday, March 7 at 3 p.m. children from grades 3 to 6 will have an opportunity to attend a "cartoon-in" lead by Arnold Roth, author of "Crazy Book of Science" and "Pick A Peck of Puzzles."

Mr. Roth has illustrated "Wally the Wordworm" and "The Witch Who Wasn't". His imagination and humorous cartoons appear regularly in "Punch", "Holiday", "Esquire" and numerous other magazines. Children who attend the workshop will be provided with black markers and paper. A maximum of 20 children can attend this workshop and advanced registration is required.

POSTER CONTEST WINNERS: Winners of the Health Careers Poster Contest for the Princetan Medical Center area are Cathleen Dragoset (secand from right), David Laschever (secand fram left) and Douglas Silver. With them is Mrs. Tipler Blaunt, Health Careers chairmon. Miss Dragoset, who won first first, will now compete in the state-wide contest. The posters ore on exhibit this week at Gallery 100 and Clork, Dodge.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

At Youth Center Sunday. The public is invited to attend an open house at the Princeton Youth Center Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

There will be a photography exhibit by James Colman and Randy Schaffer, and a coffee house organized by Terry Steaple featuring the Ajile Dancers, poet, Rene Harbison and poetess, Cynthia Hagans.

The Community Choir conducted by Lem Carroll will be making its first public appearance and from the young Black community there will be an African dance troup. In addition there will be a reception with the Board of Trustees and information on all Youth Center functions will be provided.

Mr Schaeffer teaches photography at Livingstone College. He has been a photographer for over 10 years. He recently has been documenting his family. His images of his wife and child are especially moving. He works primarily with a 35 mm camera and has mastered the technique of the format. His prints have a glow and unity that characterizes this serious craftsman.

Applications will be available for anyone interested in participating in the Center activities.

Both Mr Schaffer and M-Colman have exhibited their work in a variety of shows and galleries. The images to be shown deal on a personal level with the photographers insight about themselves and their environment.

The show will run the month of March. All works will be available for purchase. For further information call 924-0996.

Lack of New Funds for Recreation Board Plans to Have Wide Impact

Because of drastic budget cuts, the Joint Recreation Board is in the same boat in which many agencies find themselves today: full of plans, but no money to realize them.

The board's hopes for introducing much-needed programs for the elderly, for girls and women in the community were reduced to near zero last month when Borough Council and Township Committee cut its proposed 1973 budget of $217,345 to $182,650 — still $17,650 more than was allocated for 1972. But from that $17,650 increase must come $9,900 more in salaries and wages, $1,500 in insurance, $4,000 in employee costs and other fixed expenses.

"Actually, when you look at the overall picture, what we get out of it is one new exhaust fan," commented R. Donald Barr, executive director of the Recreation Department.

Referring to the $34,695 cut, board chairman William Armiger asked Mr. Barr, "Has there ever been a reduction of this magnitude?" "No," Mr. Barr replied.

"Some will ask if it is possible," he continued "to drop some on-going activities at the present time and start up some new ones, especially for the elderly, for which there is a dire need. With the present administrative staff, the answer is 'no'."

Mr. Barr added that the board would try to work out free time for the elderly at the pool this summer and "do anything we can", working with the Commission on Aging. "But we can't kid ourselves. With our limited administrative staff, we can't do much this year and I think it is wrong to hold out the hope to others that we can."

Money Before People. Mrs. Carolyn Edelmann, liaison between the Commission on Aging and the board, accused Council and Committee of putting money and budget cuts ahead of human beings. "It sounds disproportionate to me. I think its immoral and I'm ashamed of Princeton."

After Mr. Armiger had commented that he understood the pressure upon the governing bodies to hold the line but felt they had made their judgment from the wrong end by first saying "this is how much we want to raise taxes." Mrs. Barbara Smoyer, Committee liaison to the board replied: "We did not start out with a preconceived idea of what taxes should be. We listened to all presentations. In frankness, I think some of the things we are doing to keep taxes down may not be wise.

Horns of a Dilemma. "But everyone thinks his needs are most important. Taxes are going up. The very same people you are trying to help — the elderly — can't live here if taxes keep going up. We're on the horns of a dilemma."

The impact of the budget cuts on the recreation program for 1973 sounds like a dirge. Some has aready taken place. The women's basketball program started in January was cancelled February 15; the school canteen program at Littlebrook was cut off February 10, and a proposed program for Johnson Park will not get under way.

No expansion of any 1972 programs will be possible with the elimination of the $9,000 salary for a female recreation supervisor that was one of the top priority items in the '73 budget. There will be no programs for the elderly, no summer basketball league, no expansion of any league. The number of teams will have to be the same.

Street Theater salaries will be cut in half; salary increases for the playground staff will be dropped, which Mr. Barr said, will result in the loss of several excellent leaders. "I know this for a fact."

Also dropped: spectator bleachers for Community Park...sanctioned umpires and sports awards for Little and Babe Ruth Leagues, the public information brochure, a proposed playground for the Bertrand Drive area, additional secretarial help, attorney fees.

Wiped out has been a proposal to expand the summer playground program to nine weeks and another to keep the three wading pools open an additional three weeks.

Fields to Suffer. More serious in Mr. Barr's view, is a cut of $3,000 in maintenance and the elimination of renting an aerator ($1,000) to relieve a serious soil compaction and drainage problem of the ballfields at Community Park. No additional maintenance work will be done on the ball fields, which means the drainage problem will only get worse, Mr. Barr stated. He described the condition of the fields, which are also used by Princeton High School and the YMCA as "horrendous". Unless the compaction of the fields is treated, Mr. Barr predicted that an increasing number of activities will have to be cancelled because of drainage problems.

Another cut of $2519 for spare motors and pumps for the pools disturbed the board. The motors are seven years old and the impeller in the main motor is pitted and needs to be replaced. Mr. Barr stated. He warned that the pumps may break down again and the pools would be closed longer than they were last summer. "What we are trying to achieve is prudent and wise, and to do so we have to have spare pumps and motors on hand," said Mr. Armiger, somewhat wearily.

More on Elderly. Martin Lombardo, Council liaison to the Board, reported that Council and Committee had done a lot of soul searching on senior citizens and there was an alternative. "I can't see duplicating programs for the young (he said the board spent $26,000 on its youth programs) when we have none for the elderly. For many, there may be no more tomorrow."

He told the board if it really wanted to service the elderly, it had to relocate its priorities.

Dr. Benjamin Silverman, a newcomer to the board, pointed out to Mr. Lombardo that the cutback in the recreation budget had cut across all age groups, not just the elderly. Another new member of the board, Miss Merrily Dean, added that "given the reality of the situation, the elderly could be assured that we won't sit here for the next 12 months saying 'We can't. We can't. We can't.' We'll do everything we can."

Later, Mr. Armiger summed up the board's position by saying, "It seems to me the governing bodies made their decision in full understanding of the consequences. We gave them the information they needed and they listened hard. There was no failure of communication.

"This being the case, it would be wrong for the board to organize public dissent. Further appeals by the board or to go to the public meeting March 19 and complain would only subvert the system.

"The board has two obligations to the community: to explain the consequences of the cuts — the pumps may go, the pools may close — but any pressure on the governing bodies should come from the public. We got a fair hearing — we don't agree with their actions, but we don't feel we should do anything more.

"Secondly, accept this as what we have to work with. This is it — and resolve to make the best of it."

Obituaries

Mrs. Marie Therese S. L. Rulon, 45, of Skillman, died February 19 in Princeton Medical Center. She was employed by the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute, where she lived.

Born in Paris, France, Mrs. Rulon was a member of the Cercle Francais de Princeton. She lived in New Brunswick before moving to the Princeton community about 16 years ago.

She was educated in Turin, Italy, and the Val d'Aosta, and came to this country as the young warbride of Frank Lemli, now deceased. Because of her fluency in the French, Italian and English languages, and her deep interest in art, Mrs. Rulon was offered a post as "guide-interpreter" at the Louvre during a recent visit to Paris.

Surviving are her husband, Albert Rulon of Skillman; a son, Albert Jr. at home; and two daughters, Miss Denise Lemli a student at Penn State University, and Mrs. Barbara Skillman of Princeton.

The service was held in Tuckerton, with interment in Greenwood Cemetery there. Arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

---

Robert H. Griffin, 66, of 106 Leigh Avenue, died February 19 in Princeton Medical Center. He was retired from the Belle Mead Army Depot.

Born in Topping, Va., Mr. Griffin lived in the Princeton area for 45 years.

Surviving are a son, Robert B. of Willingboro; a daughter, Mrs. Gail Hollander of Sherman Oaks, Calif.; five grandchildren and a great-grandson.

The funeral was held at the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Edward Smith officiating. Burial was in Somerville Cemetery.

Mrs. Jean E. Reinhart, 49, of 10 Hart Avenue, Hopewell, died February 20. The wife of Frank J. Reinhart, she lived in Hopewell for the past 12 years.

Also surviving are two sons, Mark and Christopher, at home. She was a native of Kingston, Pa.

Mrs. Reinhart, was struck and her body dismembered by a Reading Company westbound freight train at 11:45 p.m. as she lay on the tracks near the Hopewell station. The cause of her death remains under investigation by the state police.

A requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church, Hopewell. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs Giovannina C. Ruberto, 71, of 48 Pine Street, died February 22 in Princeton Medical Center. She was the wife of Mauro S. Ruberto.

Born in Lambertville, Mrs. Ruberto lived in Princeton for 26 years. She was a member of the Rosary Society of St. Paul's Church, Princeton.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Gina Lioggi of Lawrence Township and Mrs. Rita Schioppa of Mercerville; two sons, Joseph of Lawrence Township and Liverno of Pitman, and 10 grandchildren.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated in St. Paul's Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery, under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Howard W. Van Horn Sr., 75, of 32 Park Place, died February 21 in Princeton Medical Center after a brief illness. He retired in 1965 as a supervisor with the southern division of Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

A lifelong resident of Princeton, Mr Van Horn was a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. He was with Public Service for 43 years.

Husband of the late Bessie D. Van Horn, he is survived by two sons, Howard W. Jr. and Arthur V., and one granddaughter, all of Princeton; a brother, Edward D. Van Horn of Whiting, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Tindall of Trenton.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated in St. Paul's Church. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial gifts may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad or to the Mercer County Heart Association.

Mrs. Gail G. Bash, 22, of Doylestown, O., formerly of Princeton, died suddenly February 23 in Doylestown. She was the wife of C. Malcolm Bash.

Mrs. Bash was a graduate of Akron University in the class of December 1972. She was a native of Morristown.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Graff of Princeton; and two brothers, Garry Graff of Princeton and Jeffrey Graff of Bloomington, Ind.

The service was held in the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. David L. Crawford officiating. Interment was private.

---

Mrs. Helen F. Tinsman, 69, of 55 E. Prospect Street, Hopewell, died February 26 in Princeton Medical Center. She was the wife of Russell Tinsman.

Born in New York City, Mrs. Tinsman lived in Hopewell for many years. She was a member of St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church.

Also surviving are a son, Harry M. Tinsman; two daughters, Mrs. George Rinz and Mrs. Arthur Atoeff; seven grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Edith Avers.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated in St. Alphonsus Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

---

Herman K. Moyer, 84, of 14 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville, died February 22 in Lawrenceville Nursing Home.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Esther W. Moyer, and a nephew, John P. Thomas, with whom he lived.

The service was held in the Wilson Home for Funerals, Pennington Circle. The Rev. Donald Taiel of Pennington Presbyterian Church officiated.

Hunt Gypsy Moths!

Spend an hour on a winter weekend hunting gypsy moth egg cases, and you may save not only your trees, but a whole wood land.

Egg masses are small, flat ovals about two inches long and half an inch wide. A tan fuzz covers them.

Look on tree trunks and on your wood pile. If you bought fireplace wood, examine each log. Look under rocks or behind signs nailed to trees.

Scrape masses off with spoon or putty knife. Drop them into a container and burn them. Or paint them with a mixture of half creosote, half fuel oil or kerosene.

Don't let them fall to the ground. Eggs can hatch there.

"A Dastardly Outrage."

To the Editor of Town Topics.

State Policemen have committed a dastardly outrage upon Youth Center Director Len Brown.

Concern over Doris or Len's well-being is just a first step. Expressions of shock are not enough. Smug condemnation of "redneck cops" is not where it's at.

Liberal, powerful, affluent Princetonians have a special responsibility. We can use our influence with our neighbor, Governor Cahill, to assure that a thorough, third party investigation is swiftly mandated.

We can share with the court and in public and municipal expressions what we know about Len — his outstanding character, commitment to youth, University record, inspiring citizenship and mature temperament.

We can boycott Howard Johnson's and demand the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights use its powers. We can support Len's charge of assault against the police who beat him brutally while he was handcuffed. They should be fired and jailed for their violation of the public trust. The screening and training system allowing such men onto the force should be revolutionized.

It boils down to this: If justice cannot be done in this case, then it can be done nowhere in America. And that would mean you or I could be the next victim. Let's go.

BARRIE PETERSON

New Brunswick

Dear Mr. President,

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a copy of a letter I have sent to President Nixon:

I, too, have never been prouder to be an American than when I saw those ex prisoners of war get off the plane last week. I am also very proud of being a member of Another Mother For Peace. I am proud of all the demonstrations I have attended. I am proud of all the talking I have done to people who considered the war a necessary action. I am proud of the draft resisters who followed their conscience rather than the law and left this country rather than be sent into an evil war.

I feel that I and the hundreds of thousands of other people who have thought and acted as I have, have helped bring those men home. Of this I am the proudest.

Going Back in Princeton

February 26, 1948: TOWN TOPICS' Man of the Week was Perry MacKay Sturges, "businessman, showman, musician, yachtsman, personnel consultant, veteran of two wars and an indefatigable worker in Princeton's best interests" — and, in later life, an outstanding Princeton mayor. In February 1948, he was called at age 52 for his co-authorship (with Alfred Munroe Wade) of the first all-musical production in the Princeton Community Players' 15 year history.

The show was "Along the Road," a king-sized effort calling for a dozen different tunes, with Mr. Wade authoring the book. Mr. Sturges effortlessly turning out music and lyrics, and then presiding at the piano. During World War II, while executive officer of the Princeton Naval Training School on the University campus, Mr. Sturges found time in addition to his regular duties to compose musicals for the entertainment of Naval trainees of whom he was in charge. By war's end, more than 13,000 had passed under his supervision.

In a presidential year, battle lines were being drawn early, even to the extent that the Democrats announced through club president Edward A. Thorne, that they would have a candidate for Township Committee for the first time in nearly two decades. The better-manned Republicans countered by anticipating a primary fight: between incumbent Albert Salzman and former committeeman Bertrand L. Gulick, Jr.

At the Congressional level, Democrats in the Fourth District (Mercer and Burlington counties) were set to name as their candidate Thorn Lord, former U. S. District Attorney living in Lawrence Township. Presidential politicking was also under way — the undergraduate chapter of Citizens for Stassen said their man would be on campus in April.

A sociological change in Princeton Township was expected to have a major effect on the political scene. First occupied in 1947, the University's Harrison Street Housing Project was being eyed by both parties for its impact on municipal elections. Said TOWN TOPICS:

"It is fast becoming apparent that no candidate can afford to overlook the voting potential in the Harrison Street project. By the April primaries, a lot of them will have completed the one year residence in the State requisite for registration. By next November, a large majority of the 500 men and women there will be eligible to cast ballots.

"As young voters, the odds are that they will be considerably more Democratic than the rock-ribbed Republicanism of the municipality in years past; but as a determined bloc (of which there was considerable evidence in the recent township school elections) they might well swing an election any way they liked."

Footnote to history: when the federal government gave colleges throughout the U. S. the still-scarce building materials needed to erect living quarters in a crash program to care for returning war veterans and their wives, it was done with the stipulation that five years after the housing had been in service, it would be replaced with struetures of a more permanent nature.

20 YEARS AGO

February 27, 1953. Because their plane which lost power in both its engines shortly after takeoff was flown by a pilot who had operated a glider during World War II, Mr. and Mrs. Albridge C. Smith 3d of 62 Hodge Road eseaped without injury after a foreed landing. Minutes after they left Prineeton Airport bound for Virginia, one engine went dead and the pilot eircled to return.

Before he could reach the airport, the other engine died, leaving the occupants time only to look for the nearest open field. It turned out to be the former Lambert estate on Rosedale Road, near the Columbus Boy Choir School.

The plane glided down eithout trouble, but before the pilot could bring it to a stop, a tree had sheared off one wing, one of the wheels came off, the propellers were severely twisted and both motors were badly damaged. Little more than shaken up, Mr. and Mrs. Smith promptly caught a train for Washington.

15 YEARS AGO

February 28, 1958. Taking a half-century look ahead, Borough Engineer I. Russell Riker and his Township eounterpart, Calvin O. Sehofield, saw the need for long-range planning to provide the Princeton of 2008 with a water supply adequate for 65,000 people — their estimate of the town's population 50 years hence. In a memorandum to the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, they strongly urged a program of small dam construction to provide a series of reservoirs which would in time grow with the population.

On another site, Princeton University unveiled its look for the future for Olden Street with a sketch of a proposed $8 million Engineering Quadrangle. Originally planned for the corner of William and Charlton streets, the big unit was to be built on Olden — sometime in the future. An unidentified date sometime early in the next decade was set as the target for completion.

Growing bigger, too, was Princeton Hospital, which eight months ago had opened Merwick on Bayard Lane as a convalesecent and geriatric unit and in March, 1958, would make available the facilities of a new wing, additional suites in the Medical Arts Building and a parking lot on Franklin Avenue.

Overall cost of the expansion: close to half a million, raised through a gift of $100,000 from Gerard B. Lambert if the community of Princeton would provide $394,000. Said a jubilant hospital board president John H. Wallace, Jr., "The people of Princeton topped oud goal for us by $100,000."

News Notes from 1958: Faced with a search for eandidates, the Republican Club of Princeton was hopeful that Mayor Charles R. Hurford would seek reelection in Princeton Township . . . Having purchased Mercer Manor, the Institute for Advaneed Study was preparing to remove its pieturesque Marble portico but agreed to withhold a decision on its fate pending a $25,000 fund-raising drive aimed to install the architecture on Princeton Battlefield.

Plans were afoot at the county level to widen to four lanes either the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road of Princeton Pike between the town and the state eapital . . . so pressing were Princeton Township's problems for new schools to meet its rapidly growing population that board president William L. Wilson named every member of the board of education to the New Buildings Committee . . . meat prices in late February, 1958: sirloin and porterhouse steaks, 75 eents a pound; bacon, 49 eents; rib roasts of beef, 69 eents.

TEN YEARS AGO

February 28, 1963. TOWN TOPICS' Question of the Week was "Do you approve or disapprove of the Witherspoon-Wiggins Street site that has been recommended as the best location for the new public library. Response was generally favorable, but one woman felt that "it's sort of out of the way now, but might be all right in about 20 years."

Names in the 1963 News: The Rev. Ledlie I. Laughlin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin of Drakes Corner Road, was named dean of Trinity Cathedral in Newark, effective May 1 . . . Richard Pearson was re-elected president of the Township Board of Edueation . . . R. Kenneth Fairman reported that he would not be a candidate for Township Committee after serving six years, a number of them as mayor.

Mrs. Benjamin Shimberg and Mark Heald were among those launching the suecessful Princeton Study Center at Dorothea House on John Street . . . The Board of Edueation asked the people of Prineeton, "How does the name 'John Witherspoon School' sound for the proposed $1.8 million building proposed as an addition to the Princeton system?"

A decade ago, these were among the prices of houses on the market: a four-bedroom, two-bath house on a quiet side street, $27,400 . . . a six-bedroom, two-bath Cape Cod in Lawrence Township, $36,500 . . . a spaeious eolonial, four bedrooms, 3 1-2 baths, eompletely air conditioned, $59,900.

Also in the "Good Old days" only ten years ago: bourbon was $4.65 a quart, lobster tails were $1.29 a pound and a six-pack of bock beer was $1.15.

No wonder nostalgia is making it big in 1973.

News Of Clubs and Organizations

The annual Ides of March Ball of the Republican Club of Princeton is this year featuring a dinner dance at the Princeton Day School Saturday evening, March 10. Dinner will be at 8, followed by dancing to the music of Ben Cutler and his orchestra.

Mrs. Marion Andresen and Mrs. Harry S. Reichard are co-chairmen of the event. Decorations, in an Art Deco theme, are under the chairmenship of Mr and Mrs. Harleston Hall Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Warnock Jr. Mr and Mrs. Edward R. Farley Jr. are chairmen of patrons.

Tables will be available for parties of eight to ten, with accommodations also for smaller groups.

American Association of University Women, Princeton Branch: 8 p.m., Wednesday, March 7, at Community Park School. "Legal Rights of Women — Where Do We Stand Today?" will be the subject of an address by Municipal Judge Madora J. Doherty. The public is invited.

Mrs. Doherty, a resident of Seaside Park, a graduate of the University of Washington and the New York University Law School, has been a partner with her husband, Jerome J. Doherty, in the law firm of Doherty and Doherty in Toms River.

Princeton Dog Training Club will hold its 16th annual All-Breed Obedience Trial Sunday, at the new Princeton Day School gym. The trial will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Admission is $1.50.

More than 200 dogs will compete for silver and cash prizes. High scoring dogs will be competing for the President's Trophy and the Mayor's Challenge Award sponsored by the Mayor of The Borough. For permanent possession the award must be won by the same owner three times.

The following classes will be judged Novice A, Novice B, Open A, Open B and Utility.

Friday Club: this Friday at the YWCA. Guest speaker will be Dr. Charles Fritsch, professor of Old Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary. He will present slides and discuss "The Dead Sea Scrolls." Dr. Fritsch, an author on religion, was chief field archeologist with the Link Underwater Expedition to Israel and director of the Negev Biblical Excavations Seminar. Anyone who wishes a ride should telephone the YWCA the morning of the meeting.

West Windsor Garden Club: 7:45 p.m., Monday at the Dutch Neck School. Guest speaker will be Robert J. Stevens, owner of Rhodo-Birch Nursery, who will discuss landscaping.

West Windsor Boy Scout Troop 66 and Cub Pack 66 will sell light bulbs to township residents door-to-door this Saturday and next to support troop activities.

Hadassah will sponsor a membership orientation coffee, Thursday morning, Mar. 1 at 10 at the home of Mrs. Mimi Bergman, membership vice-president, 300 Dodds Lane.

Invited are members who joined Hadassah during the 1972-73 season and prospective members who are interested in Hadassah's activities. The main purpose of the coffee is to learn more about the interests of the new members and to familiarize them with the chapter's numerous activities. Those interested in attending can call Mrs. Bergman, 924-0985.

St. Paul's PTA is sponsoring a Mardi Gras masquerade ball Saturday, from 9 to 1 in the school auditorium. Costumes are optional, but encouraged, and prizes will be awarded for the funniest, most original and best couple. Music will be provided by Sandy and the Wanderers. A buffet dinner will be served and set ups will be on every table. Reservations can be made through the School, PTA and tickets will be on sale at Hinkson's Stationery Store.

The Parents Committee for the PHS Choir Trip will sponsor a rummage sale on Thursday and Friday, March 8 and 9. Donations of clean clothes, household goods, appliances, etc. are welcome, and may be brought to the United Methodist Church any time next week. Pick-up may be arranged by calling Barbara Johnson, 924-2598.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm.

The art of pharmacy did not emerge as a distinct branch of medicine until the 18th century. Until then, it was solely in the province of medicine men and other primitive healers. It was in the 18th century that alchemy became chemistry and pharmacy became a scientific study. In the 18th century, however, many physicians compounded their own medicines. It was not until the 19th century that the distinction beween the pharmacis as a compounder of medicines and the physician became accepted.

Mozarteum Orchestra Accorded Highest Praise

If music can nurture the soul throughout the year, then Mozart is truly a man for all seasons. And if this is indeed so, then the Mozarteum Orchestra of Salzburg may be regarded as among Mozart's finest interpreters.

This renowned musical ensemble under the direction of Leopold Hager, presented an "All Mozart Program" on Monday night in the fourth and final Series I concert scheduled at McCarter Theatre for this season. The program included the Divertimento No. 11 in D Major K. 251, the Piano Concerto No. 23 in A Major, K. 488, with Lili Kraus as soloist; and the Symphony No. 35 in D Major K. 385, the "Haffner Symphony."

Serenades play an important role in 18th century light music and Mozart's divertimenti and serenades are among the finest representations of the medium. Mr. Hager conducted his orchestra serenely polish with respect to these seven movements of the Divertimento by maintaining a perfect sense of tempi or orchestral balance, shading and feeling.

Nothing was overdone. This was elegant playing by a fine orchestra.

The artistry of Lili Kraus is legendary and it was a privilege to hear her interpretation of the famed No. 23 concerto "live." I cannot imagine a more sensitive and comprehensive presentation of this magnificent score.

MUSIC In Princeton

Miss Kraus brings to her interpretation a freshness and clarity of line in which the most microscopic motivic fragment breathe a vital existence. Her touch brings forth (even from the worst of pianos) a quality of beautiful tone that sings each phrase, cusede and theme. The seams of the structure never show, because the pianist understand so well how to render each entrance. In Miss Kraus' deft fingers, the music floats aloft, soaring in a lyrical, never receding song that is the essence of Mozart.

The orchestra for the most part, provided a sympathetic backdrop to Miss Kraus' artistry, but in several passages, most notably in the second and third movement, Mr. Hager's efforts to sublimate the orchestra to the piano were almost too successful. On these occasions, one would notice the strings bowing, but hear virtually no sound emanating from their instruments. One wished for a bit more volume but this was of little significance when viewed in light of the splendid reading by both soloist and orchestra.

The Symphony No. 35 is a strong work, with operatic overtones reminiscent of the "Marriage of Figaro". The skill of Mozart as a composer is nowhere better demonstrated than early in the first movement where the main motif is bantered about, softly, in the lower strings against the episodic material leading toward the second theme.

Mr. Hager led his forces in a performance that had power, drive, sensitivity and direction that never seemed to falter. The execution of fast runs in the strings were rendered flawlessly. Mr. Hager is obviously a disciplined taskmaster as well, for one cannot imagine a cleaner or more precise manner of playing.

There were many opportunities for the solo oboe to be heard, in both the Divertimento and the Symphony. Though one may argue the merits of one school of playing against that of another, our oboist from Salzburg, whose name I was unable to ascertain, played remarkably well throughout the evening.

We have had several visits by European ensembles of various dimensions, some full orchestras, others of the chamber variety, but the Mozarteum Orchestra of Salzburg under its young and talented conductor, Leopold Hager, has to be one of the very best Princetonians have ever heard.

—Arno Safran

ORCHESTRA TO PERFORM
In March 9 Concert. The Princeton University Orchestra, under the direction of Peter Westergaard, will present a concert Friday, March 9 in Alexander Hall, at 8:30 p.m. Featured on the program will be Sheryl Wingert, soprano, in an aria from Verdi's opera "Ernani." Mrs. Wingert the winner of this year's Concerto Competition.

She is a native of Illinois and a graduate of the University of Illinois in mathematics. In Princeton she studied with the late William McGrath and is currently a student of Shirlee Emmons. She has appeared as soloist with the Chapel Choir, under Carl Weinrich.

In addition to the Verdi aria, the program will include Mendelssohn's Overture "Calm Sea and Prosperous Voyage," conducted by Robert Moreen, Assistant Conductor of the Orchestra. Mr. Moreen is a second year graduate student of the Music Department and is also the director of the group known as "Musica Alta" — a Renaissance singing group.

Mr. Westergaard will conduct Webern's Symphony, Opus 21 and "Dawn and Siegfried's Rhine Journey" and "Siegfried's Funeral March" from Wagner's "Die Gotterdammerung." The concert is open to the public, admission free.

FRIENDS PLAN CONCERT
Friday in Woolworth Center. The Friends of Music at Princeton will present Philippe Djokic, Violinist and Lynn Stodola, pianist, in a concert at Woolworth Center this Friday, at 8:30 p.m.

Their program here will be: Brahms: Sonatensatz (Scherzo), Op. posth.; Beethoven: Sonata in A Major, Opus 47; Ysaye: Sonata for Solo Violin, Opus 27, No. 3; Paganini: Capriees for Solo Violin, Opus 1, Nos. 11 & 24; Bartok: First Rhapsody for Violin and Piano. The concert is open to the public, admission free.

CONCERT THIS SUNDAY
By "The Broken Consort". "The Broken Consort" with Mathilde McKinney at the harpsichord will perform in the Les Muses en Series at the Unitarian Church this Sunday at 8:30.

The title of the group, "The Broken Consort," refers to the mixture of stringed and wind instruments such as recorders, krummhorn, viola gamba used to present the varied program which will include 16th-century French songs, modern French composition for the bamboo pipes, a Monteverdi Scherzi for instruments and voices and a collection of early American folk hymns. Mrs. McKinney will perform Bach's French Suite on the harpsichord.

In addition to Mrs. McKinney, the group of Princeton musicians includes instrumentalists Jennifer Lehmann, Geoffrey Naylor, Wilber Stewart and vocalists Mary Kemp, John Kemp, Alan Knotts and Linda Kussof.

Tickets are $2 for the performance and proceeds are ear-marked for the restoration of the Church's antique Steinway piano. For information, contact Mrs. Hoebel at 921-6612.

TWO RECITALS PLANNED
By Westminster Faculty. Soprano Lois Laverty, associate professor of voice at Westminster Choir College, will present a recital at the College on Tuesday, March 20. The 8 p.m. recital will be held in The Playhouse and is open to the public without charge.

David Agler, instructor of conducting, will accompany Miss Laverty on harpsichord and piano.

Miss Laverty holds both the Bachelor of Music and the Master of Music degrees from the Choir College, and an Art-

ART
In Princeton

EXHIBITS VARY WIDELY

At Gallery 100. Color and form combine well in an attractive collection of paintings by Elizabeth Shelley. The styles range from representational to non-objective and include stylized semi-abstract works.

In her landscapes as well as in the abstract works, this artist displays a fine sense of color. Rich tones are artfully combined with a variety of surface techniques enabling textural effects to compliment color and pattern. Sand textures, collage effects, and the occasional addition of a large solid object all contribute to the richness of the paintings.

Her sense of composition is well displayed in abstracted landscapes where good design is drawn from recognizable material while maintaining the essence of the subject. Mrs. Shelly has successfully combined all the elements of her art to create effective paintings that are technically and visually sound.

Contrasting sharply with the bold conetmporary aspect of Mrs. Shelleys paintings is a collection of African objects assembled by William Wright of Princeton. The collection includes artifacts as well as sculpture from Mali and Upper Volta. Wood bronze and reeds are among the materials used in this small but lovely gathering of primitive art from another culture.

At Kalen's Fine Arts. Paintings by Gerald Mackersie are featured at Kalen's on Palmer Square. Large, stark oils are dominated by simplified forms. Light and clear, the paintings rely on a minimal number of shapes, mostly varying renditions of the square.

The restrained shapes generate their own spatial dynamism through careful balance of reduced shapes. Occasional pattern is created by multiple interpretations of the square.

At The Eye for Art. Mexican printmaker Leticia Tarrago is among the featured graphic artists in the current display. Tarrago has always demonstrated control over her medium and continues to do so in this new collection of etching and aquatint.

Color and technique work well together in a virtuoso display of printmaking methods. Tarrago has maintained some of her earlier motifs. The haunted child remains, as does surrealistic symbolism, but the direction of her work is different.

Multicolor line etchings by F. Rainnie depict whimsical, imaginary birds. Textural effect created by repetition of nature forms contributes to the overall effect, making the prints works of art as well as whimsy.

A new breed of creature appears in multicolor aquatints by Vilchis. Organic semi-humanoids and futuristic forms of animal life exist in strange profusion in fantasy landscape. The message, or joke, is up to the viewer and the degree of projection into the strange and exotic scenes.

At Suzuki, Kingston. Metal Sculpture from Haiti is featured in the gallery of primitive art. The sculpture, which is typical of the folk creations of this society, is worked out of steel cut from large drums. The work is always flat.

Highly stylized renditions of people or animals, in dark silhouette are depicted singly and in groups. There is an ornamental feel to the work, and an occasional hammer textured surface, curlicue or other decorative form is frequently added to this otherwise simplified primitive form of sculpture.

At the University Art Museum. Two distinctive views of the Renaissance are artfully shown at the Art Museum. Much of the work is from the permanent collection of the museum which is often reassembled in different groupings in order to highlight a particular aspect of this most fertile of artistic eras.

"Renaissance Techniques" deals with the many different technical approaches of the period revealing an incredible range of media and method within a small exhibit. Sculpture in different materials, painting in varying styles and an assortment of drawing and graphic techniques are included.

"BURSTING Spring" by Esther Shelley, a lyric statement in oil, is included in her one-man show at Gallery 100 this week.

Charcoal, tempera, ink, chalk and wash drawings display both religious and classical subjects. Many figure studies are also included and it is in these that the sensitive eye of the artist and fine use of his tools are best displayed.

Amid a collection of beautiful and technically impressive works a Durer woodblock and a facsimile of its printed image are outstanding. The juxtaposition of the block and the print allows the viewer a deeper insight onto the technical subtelties and great skills involved in this work.

"Dutch Mannerism" in the Morrision Gallery displays superb examples of this late renaissance approach. Following the high renaissance, artists throughout Europe tried to embody the noblest qualities of the great art that preceded them. The results were technically fine, stylistically overblown forms in highly artifical poses. The works of some of the leading Dutch mannerists give evidence of style and technique in exaggerated anatomical presentations, fine chiaroscuro, and ennobled portraiture.

Recent sculpture acquisitions include a display of three dimensional art ranging from primitive Olmec sculpture to a Jean Tinguely kinetic work that seems to be composed of the debris of our mechanized society. The products of many cultures are included, among them a Gabon reliquary figure, Mayan jade carving, as well as other early and modern works.

—Helen Schwartz

PREVIEW PLANNED

For Gund Show. A preview reception to see the Gund Collection of American western art will be held Friday, March 9 from 6 to 9:30 p.m. at the Squib Gallery, Lawrenceville Road.

Proceeds from the reception will benefit the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation. The exhibition itself will be opened to the public on March 12 and will be on view through Friday, March 16.

Retinitis pigmentosa is a degencrative disease of the retina and the Foundation has been formed to serve as a channel for research funds. Gordon Gund, of Princeton, whose late father assembled the western art to be on view, is a victim of the disease.

The benefit committee for the exhibition consists of Dr. and Mrs. Morton Collins, Dr. and Mrs. D. Barry Davis, Mr. and Mrs. David Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. David Friedman, George H. Gallup Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gund, Mrs. Harleston Hall Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Jamieson Jr.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Leighton H. Langhlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Milholland, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney G. Stevens, Mrs. William Stewardson, Mr. and Mrs. John Watts and Mrs. Stuart V. Willson.

NEW EXHIBIT OPEN

At Present Day Club. A new art exhibit of the paintings of Conrad E. Newman opens this Thursday at the Present Day Club on Stockton Street. He is a Princeton artist whose works in various media have been shown widely, and used in publications and in industry.

His educational background includes a master's degree in Aesthetics in Education from the University of Massachusetts, a liberal arts background at New York University and professional art study at the Germain School of Photography, the National Academy in New York City, the Old Mill Art School, Elizahethtown, N. Y., the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts, and independent study under Jossey Bilan.

Mr. Newman's art experience includes serving as marketing director of Edcom Systems, Inc. of Princeton, art director of Stanley Arnold and Associates, artist with Lily Tulip Cup Corporation, and artist with Barry Martin Associates. He was at one time owner of the Focal Point Gallery at Red Bank and is presently a free-lance consultant in areas of architectural rendering, product development, packaging, display and company identification. His interests also include photography, creation of children's books and educational research.

The public is invited to see this exhibition which is open on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 9 in the morning until noon. For additional hours, it is suggested by the Art Committee Chairman, Mrs. Kenneth L. Maxwell, that appointment be made by calling the Present Day Club, 924-1011.

ISO's Diploma from the Vienna Academy of Music. She is the winner of three International Music Competitions in Vienna, Geneva and Munich, and has performed with the Vienna Chamber Orchestra and the Koblenz Stadt Theatre in Germany.

Her program will include a group of Faure songs, Schumann's "Frauenliebe und leben" cycle, and the Beethoven concert scena "Ah! Perfido" as well as a group of early English and early French songs accompanied by the harpsichord.

Diane Rivera, instructor of piano in the Preparatory Department of Westminster, will give a recital at 8 p.m. Sunday evening March 25, in the playhouse.

Mrs. Rivera will play Haydn's "Variations" in F minor, Beethoven's "Sonata", Opus 109, Ravel's "Menuet and Rigaudon" from Le Tombeau de Couperin; and the "Nocturne" in F sharp minor, "Waltz" in F major, and "Ballade No. 1" of Chopin.

Before joining the Westminster faculty, Mrs. Rivera taught at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, the University of Evansville, in Indiana, and in the Preparatory Department of The Peabody Conservatory of Music.

Both recitals, part of the 1972-73 faculty series, are open to the public without charge.

TRUMPET

Miles Davis. The jazz trumpet of Miles Davis will star this Saturday when the jazz artist and his band return to Alexander Hall for two concerts — one at 8 p.m., one at 11. Tickets are at the McCarter box office.

Bill Paul ("Me and Mrs Jones") will be next in McCarter's line-up of pop artists. He will appear Saturday, March 17 at Alexander Hall.

Laudun Wainwright III and David Bromberg will appear, also in Alexander, on Saturday, April 7.

Ravi Shankar and Laksmi Shankar, the great Indian sitarist and vocalist, will appear in McCarter on Saturday, April 14.

SHE'LL HELP CHOIR: Nadia Koulzen will give a benefit violin recital this Friday for the PHS Choir fund.

Frank Zappa and the Mothers are the Dillon Gym attraction for Friday, April 27. All concerts, wherever held, will begin at 8 p.m.

CHOIR WILL BENEFIT

From Koulzen Concert. A violinist who has a son in the Princeton High School Choir will give her talents in a benefit concert to raise money for the Choir's tour to Europe this summer.

Nadia Koulzen, Princeton violinist, will be heard in recital this Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School. The Choir itself will be part of the program, presenting the Mozart "Laudate Dominum" and Faure's "Cantique de Jean Racine."

For her program, she has chosen the sonatas in G Major and E Minor by Mozart, the Bach Sonata Number 1 in G Minor for violin alone and five short pieces by Gluck, Kreisler, de Falla and Boris Koulzen, who is the violinist's father. Nancianne Parrella will be accompanist.

Tickets are on sale at Hutt's, 140 Nassau; Stuff 'N Nonsense, 10 Moore, and the Toy Carousel in the Princeton Shopping Center. Tickets may also be obtained from Choir members or by calling 921-3063 and making a reservation. The donation is $4 for adults, $2 for students.

POS PLANS CONCERT

By Orchestra Singers. Princeton Day School's orchestra and Madrigal Singers will present a concert of vocal and orchestral music in the Lower Library of the school at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, March 13.

The vocal program will include madrigals by Campion, Weelkes and Dowland. The orchestra will present selections by Dittersdorf, Bach and Kodaly.

Both groups are under the direction of Frank Jacobson, head of the school's Music Department. The public is invited, and admission is free.

"WEATHER REPORT" DUE

Jazz Combo to Play. Weather Report, the electric free-form jazz band, will play in Alexander Hall Saturday, March 31, at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the campus radio station WPRB-FM.

All seats are reserved, and may be ordered at $3.50 each from WPRB, Box 342, Princeton.

The five-man combo has released two albums for Columbia. The second, "I Sing the Body Electric," won top place in a recent poll of Philadelphia and New Jersey critics and radio programmers.

Members of the group are Josef Zawinul, who has been keyboard artist with both Miles Davis and Cannonball Adderley; freedman Wayne Shorter, who also played with Davis; Miroslav Vitous, Czech bass and another Davis alumnus, and percussionists Eric Gravatt and Dom Um Romao.

FOLKSINGER COMING

Here on March 9. Folksinger Bill Vanaver will appear in concert on Friday, March 9, at 8:15 p.m. at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. The concert is sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society.

Vanaver is adept with many instruments, including guitar, banjo, gudolka (a Bulgarian fiddle), tamboura and bouzouki. Although he has been acclaimed for his knowledge and performance of the music of Eastern Europe and Russia, the majority of his programs and the majority of his repertoire is English-language material. He sings and plays ballads, blues, Woody Guthrie songs, music of the Appalachians and contemporary material as well as the Balkan, Estern European and Russian numbers.

Admission is $2 general and $1.50 for students. There are no advance ticket sales.

TUESDAY CONCERT SET

By Minnesota Orchestra. The Minnesota Orchestra with Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, conductor, will perform at McCarter Theatre Tuesday at 8:30 in the fourth concert of Series II of the Princeton University Concerts.

The orchestra's long tradition of musical eminence reaches back to its founding in 1903 as the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. A succession of great conductors and years of exceptional artistry have placed the Minnesota in its present position as one of America's foremost orchestras.

For their concert here the orchestra will perform: Suite from Concerts en Sexcuor by Rameau, Stravinsky's Symphony in C and Bruckner's Symphony No. 3 in D Minor.

Tickets at $6.50 and $5 are available at the McCarter Box Office. Student tickets may be obtained one hour before the concert at $2.

Arrau March 19

Pianist Claudio Arrau will give his recital in McCarter Theatre on Monday, March 19. His February 19 date had to be cancelled because of the artist's illness.

Tickets for the original February date will be honored March 19. Remaining single tickets are on sale at the McCarter box office.

The Rising Generation

Guide to 18-year-old Adulthood in New Jersey — Part 2

The co-sponsors of the Rising Generation series are pleased to reprint the new "Gnide to 18-year-old Adulthood in New Jersey." It appears in four parts detailing rights and responsibilities under the Age of Mejority Law.

The hrochure was written and prepared hy the Department of Commnuity Affairs. Office of Youth Services.

From the preamble by Governor William T. Cahill:

"Tbis uew faw will free you from the double standards that made you old enough for some adult rights hnt not old euongh for others. It will give you what you long sought and rightly deserved: The full rights and responsibilities of citizenship and the opportunity to participiate fulfy in our society . . .

"In recent years. several states have extended the rights and responsihilities of adulthood to 18-year-olds. Some of these states have also lowered their drinking age to 18: others have not. I am glad to say that New Jersey bas offered you the lull range of adnlt rights including the right to buy and sell alcoholic heverages. Unfortunately, in some states which have lowered their drinking age, antomobile accident rates for young people have increased. Hopefully. the same will not happen in New Jersey. The Age of Majority Law is ample proof that we believe the youth of New Jersey have acted and will ect responsihly, and in that we have placed our trust. Please remember that the lives of others may depend on your judgment. judgments which may affect you for the remainder of your life. . . ."

YOU MAY RECEIVE A TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT TO GOVERNING BODY VACANCIES

Whenever a court decision has declared invalid the election of a majority of the members of a towu's governing body or the entire governing hody including the office of mayor, a Superior Court judge of the county in whicb the towu is located may, upon petition by the town clerk or any taxpayer or registered voter, appoint to temporarily fill these vacancies any resident of the town over the age of 18 and otherwise eligihle to hold pnblic office. (N. J. Laws, Section 40:46-16.1)

YOU MAY BE APPOINTED TO FILL VACANT MUNICIPAL OFFICES

In any township election if two or more persons accumulate an equal number of votes for the same office or someone elected or appointed refuses to serve or an official dies or resigns from office or a vacancy exists for some other reason, the township committee is authorized to fill that vacancy by appointing any resident and taxpayer of the township over the age of 18 years. (N. J. Laws, Section 40:145-1)

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO SERVE ON GOVERNING BOARDS

If yon are 18 or over and meet the necessary qualifications. you may be appointed or elected to serve as a voting member on a governing board. For example, yon are now eligible to he elected or appointed to serve on your school board, the board of directors of a company or other organization, your local draft board, or the governing board of a Community Action Ageucy. Qualifications for the processes involved in the appointment or electiou to varions boards may differ. The important fact to remember is that yon cannot he denied participatiou in these governing boards solely hecanse of yonr age.

DO I NEED INSURANCE?

Automohile

As mentioned in other sections of this booklet, if you are 18 or older. yon have the right to contract for a loan to purchase an antomobile. You shonld he aware that you are legally responsible for maintaining insnrance on that car.

New Jersey No-Fault Insnrance Law reqnires automobile Bodily Injnry and Property Damage Liability insnrance on all private passenger vehicles registered in the state. Yonr car dealer or linance company. on the other haud, reqnires Physical Damage insnrance to protect their investment in your car. Their investment consists of the money yon still owe to them on the loan.

Physical Damage insnrance does not protect yon if you should injure a person or damage someone's property nor does it meet the requirements of New Jersey law. Be sure you know the kind of insurance you need by law and want by choice.

Property

If you are 18 or older, and live in an apartment or own your own home, you should consider purchasing homeowners insurance. Although it is not required by law, it provides yon with dual protection. First, it protects yon against property loss and damage through disaster or theft and secondly. it protects you against law suits filed against yon by those who are injured on your property.

New Jersey Department of Insnrance

YOU MAY BE SUMMONED TO SERVE ON A JURY

If you are 18 or older, you may he asked to serve as a juror in a civil or criminal case in the courts of New Jersey providing you have been a state resident for at least two years; reside in the county from which you were chosen; have never been convicted of a crime; and are in no way connected with the official administration of justice. Every juror must be able to read. write and understand the English language and must have no mental or physical disabilities which would interfere with the responsibilities of a juror. (Chapter 81, P. L. 1972)

YOU CAN NOW SEEK PUBLIC OFFICE

According to New Jersey law, the right of citizens to rnn for public office coincides with their right to vote. Since you were given the right to vote hy the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, you can now seek public office provided yon meet the other requirements established by law.

For example. you will still be prohibited from rnnning for Governor, the New Jersey Legislature. and the U.S. Congress because the age requirements for these offices are established by the Federal and State Constitutions. Constitutional amendments will be necessary to change these requirements.

Remember, however, that yon cannot be denied the right to seek all other local, county, and state offices solely because of your age. (N. J. Laws. Section 10:1-1)

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO INCORPORATE

If yon are 18 or over, you now have the right to incorporate any commercial or industrial enterprise, or any profit or nonprofit organization, by signing and filing a Certificate of Incorporation in the Office of the New Jersey Secretary of State.

If yon are 18 or over, you also have the right to act as a Director or Registered Agent of a corporation. Other qualifications for a Director or Registered Agent are nsually prescribed in the corporation's Certificate of Incorporation or in its by-laws. (Chapter 81, P.L. 1972)

YOU CAN APPLY FOR AND BE GRANTED STATE LICENSES AND PERMITS

As of Jannary 1, 1973. many of the licenses and permits granted hy state agencies that had a minimum age requirement of 21 years can now be considered by 18 to 21 year olds.

The following is a list of some of those licenses and permits.

Banking
- Sales finance licenses
- Home repair contractor licenses
- Cemetery salesman license

PEOPLE In The News

Nancy Pierson, 35 Van Kirk Road and Linda Stiffler, 345 Franklin Avenue, have graduated from the School of Practical Nursing of The Princeton Medical Center.

Members of the 25th class to complete the year long program, they attend graduation ceremonies Tuesday with 18 classmates.

The class will then begin a year of nursing service at full pay — at The Medical Center. This past year provided a full schedule of classwork and floor experience for each of the graduates.

Judith Gelis, 92 Moore Street, has co-edited a book on social problems, "Environments, People and Inequalities," with Harry C. Bredemeier of Rutgers University. Recently published by John Wiley & Sons, the book deals with the problems of adapting to environments and of integrating units of the social system. Mrs. Gelis is a newly elected member of the Regional School Board here.

---

Joe Bolster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bolster, 124 Parkside Drive, is currently doing double duty for Denison University athletics as a member of both the school's basketball and indoor track teams which have overlapping seasons. A sophomore, he has two varsity letters in track and cross country as well as holding a part of the school record in the two mile relay.

When not involved in academics or athletics, Bolster spends his time working for the school newspaper, the Denisonian, and the campus radio station WDUB. He is an English major.

Second Lieutenant John C. Blauvelt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Blauvelt, 19 Roper Road has been awarded his silver wings at Williams AFB, Ariz. upon graduation from U.S. Air Force pilot training.

Lieutenant Blauvelt is being assigned to Loring AFB, Maine where he will fly the B-52 with a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Rev. Dr. Nicholas B. Van Dyck, 2 Queenstown Place, associate director of field education at Princeton Theological Seminary, has been elected president of the Association for Theological Field Education.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Union Theological Seminary and the University of St. Andrew's (Scotland), Dr. Van Dyck served at various churches in New York City, Bedford, New York; Saint Andrew's; and Palisades, New York, before coming to Princeton.

The Association's membership includes faculty members, field supervisors, students and administrators from 173 Protestant, Catholic and Jewish theological seminaries in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico.

The WestPoint Pepperell Consumer Products Division has named Richard L. Williams, 14 Wycombe Way, Princeton Junction, to a vice president position at the division's marketing headquarters in New York.

Mr. Williams, formerly merchandise manager, sheets and accessories, becomes vice-president, merchandising, sheets and bedspreads.

He has been with WestPoint Pepperell for five years, initially managing the Southwest Distribution Center in Dallas, Tex., and later directing the Consumer Products Division's total distribution center activity.

A Princeton University biochemist has been awarded a $35,000 Dreyfus Foundation Teacher-Scholar Grant to pursue research that holds implications for the myriad treatment of disease as well as for genetic engineering.

Arnold Jay Levine, 33, Magie Apartments, assistant professor of biochemical sciences, is one of 17 young recipients of the grants (their average age is 30) selected for their achievements and potential in both teaching and research in various chemical disciplines. He will be investigating the packaging of animal cell genes into virus particles and their transfer from one cell into another.

Should Mr. Levine's laboratory work be successful and should a subsequent technology be developed by which human genetic information can be transferred from one individual to another, it promises to effect lifelong cures for various genetic disorders.

At present, genetic disorders such as hemophilia, for example, require continuous and prolonged treatment. Viral transduction (transfer of DNA — the genetic information system of all living organisms — through the medium of a virus) will produce a permanent cure with a one-time administration of the virus package. In medical terms this would be an ideal cure.

According to Levine, a 1966 Ph.D. in microbiology from the University of Pennsylvania's School of Medicine, "this is a long way off," but he feels that "because students and scientists must learn more about the potential benefits as well as the hazards in human genetic engineering, the basic laboratory work ought to be undertaken."

"The use of viruses as packages to carry genetic information," explains Levine, a Public Health Service Post Doctoral Fellow at the California Institute of Technology from 1966 until 1968 when he accepted a Princeton appointment, "whether viral or host in its origin, is now a firmly established principle that is the basis of the embryonic field called genetic engineering."

Robert T. Merritt, 16 East Welling Avenue, has been appointed director of admissions at Goucher College, effective July 1.

Mr. Merritt, who is associate director of the Middle States Regional Office of the College Entrance Examination Board in New York, has had extensive experience as a secondary school teacher and counselor, as a college instructor at Columbia and Yeshiva University and in a number of positions on the staff of the College Entrance Examination Board.

His present position with the College Board involves serving colleges and secondary schools in the middle Atlantic state, for all College Board programs.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Mr. Merritt was awarded a Master's degree in Student Personnel Administration from Columbia. He is presently residing in Pennington, New Jersey, with his wife, the former Elizabeth Lee Harrington of Tulsa, Okla., and their three children, Kevin, Sarah and Christopher.

The lieutenant, a 1967 graduate of Hackley High School, Tarrytown, N.Y., received his B.A. degree in sociology in 1971 from Nathaniel Hawthorne College, Antrim, N.H. He was commissioned upon graduation from the School of Military Sciences for Officers at Lackland AFB, Tex.

John A. McPhee, 158 Terhune Road, has written, "The Deltoid Pumpkinseed," appearing last month in "The New Yorker" in three parts, and then to be published by Farrar, Straus and Giroux. The story concerns the work of Aereon Corporation, 1 Palmer Square, to research, develop and test an experimental aircraft called Aereon 26.

A Special Seminar on Alpha Brain Wave Function and E.S.P., . . .
Wednesday, March 7
Thursday, March 8

In June, a national magazine, Newsweek, featured a special article on "Probing the Brain."

In this article discussion was focused on one of the most fantastic breakthroughs in modern psychology, a new science dealing with the conscious control of brain waves —the electrochemical activity of the brain. This new science is called Alphagenics, and concerns itself with the Alpha Rhythms of the brain. Noted researchers discussed how any individual can learn to function at lower levels, control their brain waves and revealed some of the phenomenal capabilities of man with self-control of his brain waves.

There are four principal brain wave rhythms, the Beta-wave, associated with the outer conscious levels, tensions anxiety, physical activity, etc., the Alpha wave, associated with inner levels of mental activity; tranquility, inspiration, creativity, E.S.P., healing processes, memory learning, daydreaming and other phenomena. Theta-waves, which are related to deeper inner meditation mental control of pain, and finally the Delta-waves, which are found in deep sleep or total unconciousness.

Exploration of this almost unknown continent — the human brain — has been pioneered by a soft-spoken parapsychologist, Joe Silva, of the Institute of Psychorientology, of Laredo, Texas. This sincere dedicated scientist has been training people to function at different levels of brain waves for many years. Twenty-six years ago Silva and his associates began their research in Mind Control to see if it was possible to increase a person's I Q factor . . . Amazingly, Silva discovered that not only could I Q be increased but a person trained in this technique could even learn to control certain areas of the Automatic Systems, heart beat, respiration, body temperature, etc. The implications of this breakthrough with regard to health and disease were staggering. With Mind Control Techniques it was found that in many cases people could banish pain, accelerate healing, eliminate insomnia, migraine headaches, as well as untold psychosomatic problems.

As research continued, an amazing discovery was made. Volunteer students were found to be surprisingly sensitive to the feelings and emotional attitudes of others. In other words they became 'more intuitive. In-depth studies revealed that anyone with a normal brain and sufficient training could develop so-called E.S.P. and clairvoyance. Alpha Brain Wave Functioning actually enables anyone to become a superior human being.

Classes Now In 100 Cities

Six years ago the directors of the Institute of Psychorientology decided they were ready to release their findings to the general public, and offer the M.C. Training Program to everyone interested in developing a better mind.

Over 75,000 graduates — Coast to Coast

Now there is no longer any doubt as to the great value of this astounding method of self improvement.

Techniques have been improved and refined to the point that only a few hours of classroom instruction were all that was required to train a truly effective person.

Learn Specific Techniques

Once you have mastered Alpha Brain Wave Functioning, you have better control over anxiety and tension. You can banish insomnia and eliminate pain — unlearn bad habits such as smoking, overeating, drinking, etc., and create good new ones anytime you desire. Your artistic and learning capacity will increase along with your vitality, energy, and self-confidence. You'll be happier and more successful in both the personal and business aspects of your life. What's more, Alpha Brain Wave techniques will make you able to help your loved ones in dramatic and effective ways regardless of their troubles. In short, you'll be a better student, parent, employee, or employer, became a truly effective problem-solver, a more dynamic person what ever you'd like to be!

Silva Method of Mind Control

Alpha Brain Wave Functioning literally opens the door to the "Promised Land" — the kingdom within. Through simple, easily learned techniques you can have your heart's desires, become the person you want to be.

Results Guaranteed

Tigers Lose Way to Ivy Basketball Title in Graveyard of Upsets

The all-too visible decay of Princeton's basketball fortunes which set in immediately after the Tigers' upset of Penn at the Palestra on January 30 reached a peak last weekend. The twin defeats at New Haven and Providence marked the first time in the two-decade history of Ivy play that an Orange and Black quintet had lost road games to this pair in the same week.

Penn's 53-51 upset by Brown Friday capped the Princeton debacle with a thick coating of irony. Having lost by 63-61 to Yale and 68-62 to the Bruins, the Tigers actually needed only 10 more points to take both these games and go into the final week of play as the same prohibitive favorite to win the Ivy crown that Penn is now.

Dartmouth, led by Jim Brown, the top scorer in the Ivy League, will be here Friday. Harvard, undoubtedly the most disappointing of all teams in the league with its skilled personnel that falls prey to one upset after another, will conclude the Princeton season Saturday. Runner-up Ivy honors this year are unlikely to produce an NIT bid, in view of the Tigers' brand of play during February and the availability of numerous better - looking teams across the country.

Penn's anticipated fourth straight league championship is the longest string compiled in the post-World War II years. It does not yet, however, approach the string of seven tied together by Dartmouth beginning in 1938.

Defense Disappears. Unable to score consistently, or to find as many as three players who belong in the starting lineup without question, Princeton's hope for a shot at the title lay in its ability to play defense. Last weekend, the Tigers could not, and when they shot a mediocre 39 percent at New Haven and 41 at Providence, blending that with inadequate rebounding and numerous turnovers, they brought boundless joy to the small but vociferous crowds that revel in rarely-seen triumphs over Princeton basketball teams.

When Brown last defeated the Orange and Black on the court, many of its currently promising group of sophomores were barely out of kindergarten. The date was January 9, 1960.

Pressure has finally begun to tell on Captain Ted Manakas, whose season-long ability to hit on better than 50 percent of his field goal attempts tailed off to a 1-for-6 performance in the costly first half against Yale. When the Tigers trailed at the intermission, 33-25, and by as many as 12 points shortly thereafter, it required more of a miracle to win than this team could manage.

It did erase almost all the deficit, but with 33 seconds left, it was still down by one (60-59) and did not have the ball. Three Eli free throws in the remaining time more than offset a basket by Manakas, and the Blue had the Tiger's tail nailed to the floor. Next day, Yale reverted to the form more symbolic of its 9-14 season when it was routed by Penn, 78-49.

Ahead at the half at Providence, 35-33, despite 18 turnovers, the Tigers appeared in control when they moved out to a 42-35 margin as play resumed. Then, unpredictably — as the hallmark of this team has been — the momentum and the game slipped away.

Brown drew even at 43-all, broke another tie at 48-all with five minutes left and led by as many as 10 points while the clock was running out. Indicative of the Tigers' frustration was the ejection from the floor near the end of John Benger for swinging a fist at a Brown player, the first such banishment a Princetonian has undergone in many years.

Basketball players seem to get bigger and bigger every year, but did you ever wonder who was the tallest player in history? The House of David team once had a player who holds the all-time record. His name was "Tiny" Reichert. He stood 8-1.

Here's an oddity. Every city that won the championship of the National Basketball Association between 1949 and 1955 is no longer in the league! Minneapolis won the NBA title in 1949-50-52-53-54, Rochester won it in 1951 and Syracuse in 1955, and none of those cities are now in the NBA.

Did you know a boxer once won the heavyweight championship of the world while lying on his back! How did this happen! Well, in 1930, Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling met for the title. Sharkey knocked Schmeling down in the fourth round but his punch was called a foul blow. Because of the foul, Sharkey was disqualified and the championship awarded to Schmeling as he was lying on his back!

SPORTS in Princeton

SEASON NEARS END

For Tiger Hockey Team. Two games were left this week for the Princeton hockey team, which has for the better part of a month been trying to record the 500th victory in the sport for the Orange and Black. The Tigers appeared on the verge of doing so after successive triumphs over Penn and Yale following the mid-winter exam break, but have since lost six in a row.

A return contest with the Quakers was on the schedule this Wednesday at 8 in Baker Rink, Princeton won the first meeting between the two at Philadelphia, 5-4 in overtime, but injuries have weakened the team since then and there was doubt over its ability to repeat.

The season will end at Hanover Saturday, with Dartmouth hoping to duplicate its 2-1 success here in early January. The Green has had a wholly unpredictable winter, defeating Ivy champion Cornell, 3-2, and earning a 2-2 tie with Harvard at Cambridge but losing twice to Yale.

Facing Harvard and Cornell within a four-day period is an assignment even the strongest teams in the east might not relish. When the task confronted Princeton's undermanned skaters last week, they lost by a combined score of 20 to 7. Harvard triumphed last Wednesday, 13 to 2, giving the Crimson 24 total goals in the 1973 series to 3 for the Orange and Black, while on Saturday, Cornell prevailed, 7-5. Earlier this month, the Ithacans won on their own ice, 6-1.

Of the 40 shots Harvard took at goalie Ed Swift, 13 got by him for reasons ranging from the Crimson's super stick-handling to the inevitable Princeton defensive errors. The victors scored as early as 1:15, led by 6-1 with less than 17 minutes of the first period played, and scored three times during the second round in a space of 40 seconds.

Princeton's occasional demoralization was symbolized by a penalty near the end of round one for having too many men on the ice. There are, of course, ways of stopping a team as deeply talented as Harvard, but not all of them are legal.

The losers' goals were scored by Walt Snickenberger and Bob Bezan. The defeat was Princeton's 12th in a row by this opponent, which it last

Raymond Withdrawal Muddles Football Picture

The Princeton football situation, which a week ago would in all probability have been clarified had Jack (Tubby) Raymond of Delaware said he'd like to be the Tigers' next coach, is now undergoing a major unraveling process. The only clear-cut development was negative: Raymond, the man who was widely believed to be the University's top choice to succeed Jake McCandless, announced he was not interested in changing jobs.

While two or three other candidates for the position were coming back to the campus for a second interview with the selection committee, a couple of names were being added to the mix for the first time. Under the circumstances, published estimates of the time before a final choice is made now range from two to four weeks.

No sooner had Raymond reported from Newark, Delaware, that "I have decided that for the time being my future is here," two applicants with former association at Princeton in their backgrounds were tabbed as front-runners for the job. One is Frank Cignetti, a McCandless assistant in 1969 before leaving for West Virginia to become offensive coordinator. The other is Bob Casciola '58, who was an assistant here and at Dartmouth before becoming head coach at Connecticut two years ago.

Among the two latest entries are Rocky Carzo, head coach at Tufts, and John Jackson, backfield coach at Dartmouth under Bob Blackman and now serving in the same capacity under him at Illinois. Carzo's application is unusual in that he did not make the first move — he was asked by Princeton if he would like to be considered after he had been highly recommended by those in the profession, including Raymond. Working in Jackson's favor is his past experience with the Ivy League and the fine track record Dartmouth backfields invariably had.

Still under firm consideration also is Amherst coach Jim Ostendarp, who in 14 years there following his career as a tackle with the New York Giants has compiled an 83-27-2 record. Reportedly a candidate of Redmond Finney, the Princeton trustee who played on the unbeaten teams here in the early '50s, Ostendarp could follow Raymond's lead in realizing that life is highly satisfactory where he is. At age 50, furthermore, he might have that factor working against him.

Others whose candidacies have been mentioned since the search began are conceivably beginning to fade from further consideration. If there are additional last-minute entries, their names have not yet come to light. At this point, however, the final choice will have some element of surprise to it, now that Raymond, the one-time front-runner, has said that he would not accept if nominated, and would not serve if elected.

edged, 5-4, in 1967.

Princeton got the first two goals before an Alumni Day crowd of 2,000 Saturday, but Cornell got the next six, and despite a markedly improved Tiger offense, that was pretty much the ball game. It was still 2-1, Princeton, at the end of the first round but 6-2 for the Red after two periods.

In the final session, the home team outscored the eight-time Ivy champions, 3-1, but it did not narrow the gap to two goals until less than two minutes remained. Junior goalie Phil Robinson, playing his first game in three weeks after a groin injury, gave an understandably inconsistent performance but included numerous fine saves among the 35 he made on the visitors' 42 shots.

A loose puck that Walt Snickenberger flicked over the prostrate body of the Cornell goalie put the Tigers in front as early as 1:29, and less than four minutes later, Mike Bascom made it 2-0 on a shot that went through the goalie's legs. By day's end, Princeton had put something of a dent in Dave Elenbaas's statistics, with five goals against his average of two in nine previous Ivy contests.

Once Cornell started, the outcome was not in doubt. The Red scored first at 12:25 of the opening period, drew even just 21 seconds after play resumed and added four more in the next 19 minutes.

The Tigers' season-long inability to keep their tempers again proved costly. Four of the victors' first goals came while Princeton had a man doing time, generally for slashing or throwing an elbow in attempted retaliation for contact of which the Tigers disapproved.

Basketball at Jadwin

Princeton University's basketball team will end its home season Saturday, but 7500-seat Jadwin Gym will continue to draw crowds into mid-March.

It will in all probability be the site of a first-round NCAA playoff game Saturday, March 10. Pairings, to be announced Thursday, will involve an eastern dependent and one of the conference champions (Ivy, Middle Atlantic or Southern.)

Saturday, March 17, will see the four championship state high school games played in Groups One, Two, Three and Four. The respective starting times are 9:45, 11:30, 3:30 and 5.

Next day, the Parochial School Class C finals will be played at 1:30, Class B at 3 and Class A at 4:30. All seven scholastic contests will be televised on Channel 52.

championship Saturday by Peddie, 77-66.

The game was part of a double header played at the Pennington School gymnasium. In the other contest, Princeton Day School was eliminated in the Class B semi-final by Morristown - Beard, 86-70.

In winning, Peddie advanced to the state prep school final round which was scheduled to be held Wednesday. Its opponent is Lawrenceville School.

To reach the semis, Hun had defeated Blair Academy last week, 78-53, for its 18th win this season. (The Peddie loss was its fourth.) Hun still has two games to play.

It was scheduled to play Pennsylvania School for the Deaf this Wednesday afternoon on the latter's court in what is its final regular season game. Then on Friday or Saturday, it will play Germantown Friends School for the championship of the Penn-Jersey League. The contest will be held at a neutral site, said Hun coach Dave Leete, probably in Fort Washington, Pa.

Hun captured the northern division of the Penn - Jersey League with a perfect 8-0 record. Germantown Friends repeated as champions of the southern division with a 7-1 mark — its only loss to Hun in regular season play.

The same two teams met last year for the league title when Germantown triumphed.

Peddie Too Tall. For Hun Saturday, it was a case of Peddie being too tall. "They outrebounded us badly," said Leete who added Hun's shooting was poor in the first half. "Actually, we outscored them by two in the second half but that doesn't count." Peddie, led by its 6-8 center, Ed Schetlick, owned a 39-26 halftime lead.

Peddie (20-1) is ranked as the top school in the area and its victory over Hun was its 18th in a row. It had defeated Hun earlier in the season by four points. Peddie's only loss has been to Malvern Prep.

Hun was led by sophomore Tony Trani who hit for 18 points against Peddie and who had 14 in the Blair game. "He was all hustle against Peddie," said Leete. "He's going to be a good one."

Leete also singled out the play of Kevin Tylus who popped in 14 points in the Peddie game. Biff Hollowell added 12 and Brian Logue, 10.

Against Blair last Wednesday, Hun played one of its best games of the season. Employing a press that forced countless Blair turnovers, Hun was devastating in the first period, rolling up a 22-6 lead.

The attack, Leete agreed, was "well balanced." Logue, Trani and Tylus each contributed 14 points. Hollowell 12 and Brent Bystrzycki, 10. In the final period, his team ahead, 70-35, Leete emptied his bench and five other players scored.

PYBA HEADS NAMED

Dean Chace, Jack Petrone. Former Township Committeeman Dean Chace and Township Sgt. Jack Petrone have been named president and commissioner respectively of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association.

A non - profit organization, the PYBA operates three baseball leagues for Princeton area youths during the summer. The Little League is an eight-team league for boys, 9-12; the Babe Ruth League consists of four teams for boys, 13-15. In addition, in cooperation with the Princeton Post 76, the PYBA supervises a team in the Mercer County American Legion League. To be eligible for Legion ball, a boy must not have reached his 19th birthday before August 1.

Mr. Chace, active in the Princeton Midget Football League and also a former chairman of the Joint Recreation Board, will devote much of his spare time to directing the three leagues. Sgt. Petrone will serve as chief arbiter of all disputes and protests. He is the founder of the original Princeton Police Little League and is currently commissioner of the Midget Football League.

Other league directors include Bernie Miller, Little League activities; Joe Opperman, Babe Ruth; and Ted Kopp, who will supervise the Princeton Post 76 Legion team which joined the league last year.

Lee Neuwirth will serve as chief administrator and registrar, Bill Bruschi as treasurer and Ben Silverman will remain on the board of directors. Anyone interested in serving either as a coach or in an administrative capacity should call Mr. Chace at 921-7230 or Sgt. Petrone, 924-4339.

"People expect more from the phone company.

So being good isn't good enough."

Our job is to provide you with telephone service that is ever more reliable, convenient and enjoyable to use. How well we do it will depend on our success in many areas. But none is so important as the performance of our people.

At New Jersey Bell we do a lot of talking about 'spirit of service.' It's easy to see this spirit in action during storms and natural disasters when telephone employees work round-the-clock to get service back in order. Or when a telephone operator spends agonizing minutes on the line trying to calm a frightened child.

These examples come readily to mind. And rightly so. But what about the everyday commitment to service?

Some people feel it died back in the fifties. And not just at the phone company. They say people don't care these days. And that 'telephone employees aren't what they used to be.' Well, they're not. Our people look, think and act differently. They fill different roles, too. As a result, we now have male operators and female craftsmen.

In the old days, corporate concepts about devotion to duty and spirit of service were clear-cut and accepted without question. Not so today. Telephone people—young and old alike—now ask questions and demand answers. They want to know why doing something one way is better than another. They want to know that their work is meaningful and important in terms of service to others.

And this is good. Because it leads to better performance; makes for a better working atmosphere; and results in a better end product.

Sure, technology plays a large part in our business. But even the best technology in the world is only as good as the people who put it to use.

That's why we rely so heavily on the individual performances of our people. And why we back them up with good training and the most modern equipment possible.

It's also why we're spending over one million dollars every working day on construction programs. Building new facilities and expanding existing ones. We're developing new equipment, new training methods. By 1974 we plan to complete our new multi-million dollar training center.

All these things will help us do a good job. But people are, and always will be, our most valuable resource. People make the difference.

I'm proud of today's telephone people. They're better educated, better trained. And they're faced with a job that is much more complex than it was years ago. I think they have done a good job of meeting that challenge. But people have always expected more from the telephone company. So being good isn't good enough.

Our people know this. And because they're concerned and committed to helping you, they're going all out to do the best job possible.

THE BEST PHS FIVE IN 20 YEARS was comprised of (from left) Larry Miller, Leon Rabinson, Tony Bailey, Bobby King and Gil Spencer. Rabinson and Bailey were co-captains of the team which wan 18, last six and captured the Mercer County crown. All will graduate except King. (Staff Photo)

PHS Quintet Ends Its Season Prematurely but Still on Happy Note

Bobby King, the only junior, was first to go with 3:20 left to play in the third period. A minute later, center Leon Robinson gave way to Mark Yates.

Then in the final period, Gil Spencer left with 4:39 to go, followed a little later by Larry Miller. With 1:50 remaining in Friday's game with Notre Dame — the outcome long before nailed down — Tony Bailey left the PHS court for the last time to a standing ovation. Clapping as hard as all the rest was school superintendent Dr. Philip McPherson.

What Dr. McPherson and the others were applauding was the Princeton High School basketball team — described as the best Little Tiger team in the past 20 years. The 76-73 win over visiting Notre Dame was to be its last hurrah.

That final nail in the Little Tigers' hopes of being able to participate in the NJSIAA tournament from which they had been banned was driven home a few hours later by the Appellate Division of the State Superior Court. The three-man body ruled that there would not be sufficient time to allow PHS to enter the tournament which began Monday.

Earlier, PHS officials had asked State Education Commissioner Carl Marburger to review the NJSIAA one-year probation, but because such a review could not be accomplished in time to allow the Little Tigers to play, the school sought an injunction in State Superior Court to rescind the probation until Commissioner Marburger's office could act on the appeal. That injunction was denied by Judge Baruch S. Seidman.

After the Notre Dame game, Dr. McPherson went into the team's locker room and after congratulating PHS coach Marvin Trotman, told him that the school had not as yet heard the outcome of its appeal to the Appellate Division. He promised to notify Trotman as soon as he heard the court's decision.

Used Every Legal Avenue. Dr. McPherson may have his detractors but he and school attorneys Thomas Cook and William J. Brennan 3d explored and used every legal means at their disposal to try to have the probation — the first ever against Princeton High School — overturned or stayed until the tournament was over.

From the beginning, when PHS trounced Franklin Township, 103-72 in its second game, it was apparent that this was not going to be the usual Little Tiger court team. It went on to defeat St. Anthony's, Steinert, Hamilton and Notre Dame twice each to win the Mercer County championship. It engineered a stunning, one-point victory over 12th-ranked Camden, a team to which it had lost the week before in Camden by 30 points.

To a man, Bailey, King and the others thought they could win the Group 3 state championship. There was no doubt in their minds. Nor in Trotman's. "You can beat anybody if you have a good team," he commented after the final win on Friday. "We have a good team; we could play anybody in the state."

And so the bittersweet memory must remain: after 20 years of waiting, after proving they were capable of capturing the Mercer County title, the Little Tigers were denied the chance of proving how far they could go in the state tournament.

There was one final cruel question. After censuring Trotman for unsportsmanlike behavior for his role in the January 12 game with Ewing which ended in a fracas — a ruling which Trotman and PHS school officials both agreed was in order — the NJSIAA executive committee which issued the ruling never fully explained why it tacked on a year's probation for the team. The team was not involved in the fight that erupted in the Ewing gym between the fans.

"I can only assume," said an equally nonplused PHS athletic director Norman Van Arsdalen, "that they did take into consideration the fight after the game."

Great Exit. If one has to go, everyone on the team agreed with Trotman when he said after the game: "We really looked good. It's a great way to finish the season. Everyone got to play."

King personally took the Irish apart with an inspiring scoring display. Bobby got the first two baskets for PHS, only to see Notre Dame pull to a 14-6 lead. King answered by scoring the next six PHS baskets in a row to account for 16 of his team's first 18 points.

King's tear put PHS in front 18-12 and it never looked back. Bobby finished with 23 points to give him 86 for the last four games. His first period burst also eclipsed the 13 he had earlier this season in the first period against Hamilton.

In the second period, Leon Robinson scored eight of his 12 points and Larry Miller seven of his eight as PHS pulled to a commanding 44-25 halftime lead. Tony Bailey led all PHS scorers with eight of his 18 in the third period while Gil Spencer limited Mike Hoffman, the Irish scoring leader, to four points in the first half. Spencer contributed eight points himself.

In short, it was a typical PHS game where everyone contributed. When PHS was on its game — and there were moments when it was pure enjoyment to watch Bailey, King and Miller do their thing — there could be little doubt that the Little Tigers could stay with any team.

"We played together, everybody hustled every game," said King.

Other seniors playing their last game for PHS were Mark Yates, Mike Coda, Dane Black, Howard Sweeney and Jim Bolster.

PHS finished with an 18-6 record to tie the 1952 PHS team for the most games won. It was 8-2 in the Mercer County League standings.

---

HIGHTSTOWN 5TH VICTIM Of PHS Winter Track Team. From a 23-22 lead, the Princeton High School winter track team won the remaining four events — shot put, two-mile, relay and high jump — to defeat Hightstown last week, 53-24. With only the Hunterdon Central meet remaining, Coach Marc Anderson's Little Tigers have a 5-3 record and have assured themselves of a winning season.

First place winners for the Blue and White were Mike White, 60-yard dash; Bill Frazier, mile; Steve Roderick, 880; Bill Alexander, shot put; and Pete Nichols, 2-mile. Lou Drury and Nichols, co-captains of the team, are first and second respectively in points scored.

DISTRICT ONE CHAMP: Bob Zinsmeister, PHS 148 pound wrestler, was the lone Little Tiger to win a NJSIAA District 17 mat championship at Hunterdan Central Saturday.

ENDS MAT CAREER: Wes McClain, PHS heavyweight wrestler, ended his high school mat career by competing in the district championships at Hunterdan Central where he was seeded fifth in his weight class.

WHAT'S MY LINE? Few would probably guess that attractive Martha Oargan is manager of the PHS boys wrestling team. Martha is a junior.

DISTRICT MAT TITLE WON

By Bob Zinsmeister of PHS.

Bob Zinsmeister, Princeton High School's fine 148-pound wrestler, was the lone PHS wrestler to win a NJSIAA District 17 championship in the district matches held Friday and Saturday at Hunterdon Central High School in Flemington.

Three other Little Tigers advanced to the final round — Andy Foltiny (106-pounder), Keith Holcombe (141) and Angelo Arcaro (167) — and all lost, but since both first and second - place wrestlers qualify for the regional matches, all four will compete in the NJSIAA regional championships which will be held Friday and Saturday again at Hunterdon Central. "We're looking forward to the regionals," commented PHS coach Tom Murray. "It's the most we ever put into the district finals."

Only one other wrestler from Mercer County captured a district crown — Hopewell Valley's undefeated 178-pound Bill Fritz. Host Hunterdon Central dominated the districts, capturing nine of 12 individual championships and the team title with 147½ points. Hopewell Valley was second with 61½, North Hunterdon third with 50½ and PHS fourth with 40½. Ewing, Lawrence, Steinert, Notre Dame, Allentown, Trenton and Hamilton also competed.

Zinsmeister, a junior, decisioned Dan Chinko of Hunterdon Central, 5-4, in the final round. He has lost only twice this year and was seeded No. 1 in his weight class.

Keith Holcombe, seeded No. 3, was blanked by Hunterdon Central's Jim Bowen, 4-0, in the 141-pound class. Bowen is a two-time district champion. Arcaro lost 6-0 to Central's Jeff Kanach. Murray reported that Arcaro had engaged in a tough semi-final match with Ewing's Russell Reed, and it took a lot out of him. "He was just bushed."

First Loss for Foltiny. The big match from Princeton's standpoint was the 106-pound battle between Central's Dom Emanuel (16-1) and Foltiny (16-0-1). Foltiny seeded No. 1, had defeated Emanuele last year in the 98-pound district finals but Emanuele evened things by earning a hard fought 5-3 decision Saturday night. It was Foltiny's first setback this season in 18 matches.

"Andy went in confident but he didn't wrestle his match at all," said Murray. "He gets another chance and I'm sure he'll make the most of it."

Murray explained that the first and second -finishers in the district finals are placed at opposite ends from each other in the eight-man regional competition "so it is conceivable they will meet again."

"I have supreme confidence in him," Murray continued. "He'll approach it in a different way and I think he'll beat him. I still say Foltiny will be my ticket to the state matches." The NJSIAA state tournament finals will be held the following week at Jadwin Gymnasium on the Princeton University campus.

Mike Holcombe, PHS 115-pounder, finished third in the districts, while freshman Dave Robinson came in fourth in the 98-pound class.

PEE WEE HOCKEY SET

At Lawrenceville Rink. The sixth annual Lawrenceville Invitational Pee Wee Hockey Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Lawrenceville School's Lavino Rink with some 150 players involved.

Eight teams of boys, 12 or younger, will compete for the Charles R. Erdman, Jr. trophy. Erdman is a 1916 alumnus of Lawrenceville and longtime Princeton resident who has done much to further interest in hockey for many years.

Three Princeton area all-star teams will again participate: The Princeton Pee Wees, who have won the four previous tournaments; the Nassau Hockey Club and the Lawrenceville Pee Wees, who won the consolation round twice in the past. Other teams participating this year are the Delmont, Pottstown, and Wissahickon Pee Wees, all from Pennsylvania; the North Jersey All-Stars and a new group, the Montclair Pee Wees.

The first round championship games will begin at 8 on Saturday, and the first round consolation games start at 1:30. On Simday, the second round championships begin at 9. The consolation game commences at 1 and the championship final at 2:30.

In addtiion to the Erdman Trophy for the tournament champions, trophies are also presented to the runner-up and consolation winners. Tournament Director is Lewis O. Brewster, II, a member of The Lawrenceville Classics Department and Assistant Director of Admissions, who extends a welcome to all hockey enthusiasts. Admisson to all games is free.

UNIVERSITY IS OUTSHOT

By Junior Rifle Team. The Princeton Junior Rifle Team, sponsored by the Princeton PBA 130, defeated a rifle team from Princeton University last week, 1805 to 1778.

Top marksman for the Junior team was Jack Seeley of 146 Linden Lane, who shot a 372 in four positions out of a possible 400. He was followed by his sister, Pat, who shot 371. Others: Lonnie Baldoni, 368, Scott Holtzclaw, 351, and Don DeAngelis, 343.

Dick Mott led the university team with 362.

More recently, the Princeton Junior and Sub-Junior teams shot against Admiral Farragut. It was the Sub Juniors

"Growth" Is the Word for State's Portfolio

Richard Stoddard

A genial, gentle Quaker who watches over Princeton Friends Meeting with avuncular concern and likes to feed the birds at his Westcott Road home, supervises a $3.5 billion stock portfolio that affects, one way or another, almost every resident of New Jersey.

And that $3.5 billion will become $5 billion before many more robins build their nests, predicts Richard L. Stoddard. When he became Director of the Division of Investment of the New Jersey Department of the Treasury back in 1964, the money in the kitty was a miniscule $1.4 billion. In the eight calendar years since, it has grown to $3.5 billion — about $250 million a year.

Mr. Stoddard's division invests the money belonging to

BUSINESS *In Princeton

46 different state funds. Among them are five pension funds for public employees: the Teachers Pension and Annuity Fund, the Public Employees Retirement System, the Police and Firemen's Retirement System, the Firemen's Pension and the State Police Retirement System.

One of the accounts is the surplus balance in the state treasury, amounting to $341,603,502. There are proceeds from bond sales in the transportation fund and the public buildings construction fund.

There's the Workmen's Compensation Security Fund, a back-up fund, just in case any workmen's compensation insurance company becomes insolvent.

When property - owners in center-city Newark had trouble getting post-riot insurance, the state established the Insurance Development Fund (its source is a surcharge in fire-insurance premiums) to relieve insurance companies of the risk factor.

How to Invest "We analyze each of the 46 funds to find out what kind of demands it's likely to have," Mr. Stoddard explains. "When will contractors' bills be presented, for example. This is short-term, so we'll buy Treasury obligations or commercial paper. With the Insurance Development Fund, for instance, we'll buy for later maturity — say, two or three years from now."

All these are fixed - income investments. When it comes to pension funds, the Division of Investment is allowed, as of last month, to put 25 per cent of the total into common stocks. The ceiling had been 10 per cent.

The total, at the end of 1972, was $2,542,605,096. The new ruling means Mr. Stoddard can now boost his common stock investments to about $625 million, instead of the previous $254 million.

"We — and that means the State Investment Council and I — reached this decision together," he says, "you see, the performance of state funds must be as good as any other fund, and those heavily in common stocks have out-performed the rest."

The rules actually allow a ceiling of 60 per cent of total funds invested in common stocks, and Mr. Stoddard says some banks would like the law changed to allow 100 per cent, but he shakes his head: "I don't think that would be suitable for the state. There's a limit to how far we can go, with state money. Consistency of return is important for us."

Buy the Blue Chips Money is spread among the blue-chips. The Division isn't allowed to invest in any stock unless it has returned a dividend for four of the last five years. Nor can it buy more than 2 per cent of the stock of any one company.

"We've been doing well in the last few years," Mr. Stoddard smiles. Pension fund investments are returning about 5.5 per cent, compared to 4.6 per cent four years ago.

Just to show what "doing well" means, Mr. Stoddard turns to his Variable Annuity Fund and its performance. Public employees contribute to this fund only if they want to, and the whole fund consists of employee money without any public contribution.

Over a two year period that included a market dip, the fund was up 3.4 per cent compared to the Standard and Poor 500 increase of 2.8 per cent. In 1971, "we were up 18.3 per cent and the S. & P. 500, up 14.1 per cent."

Because the Division is growing so fast, Mr. Stoddard hired a consultant — William A. Dreher and Associates, Inc. — to peer into the near future and see what the Division will need when it breaks the $5 billion barrier.

Stronger research capabilities, was the chief recommendation. The Dreher firm pointed out that by spending only modestly on staff and research, the Division might improve its yield by 1 per cent. In dollar terms, Mr. Stoddard points out, that's a cool $35 million.

Richard Stoddard had a long history of experience in finance as well as long residence in Princeton before he took on the state job in 1964. He came to Princeton from Swarthmore, Pennsylvania in 1943 when he joined Johnson & Johnson, and he became comptroller and treasurer for Ethicon, a J. & J. subsidiary, when Ethicon was formed. It was also in the '40s that he became in Princeton what he had been in Swarthmore — a strong and active member of Friends Meeting.

Between Ethicon and his present office in Trenton, Mr. Stoddard had his own investment advisory service.

The office of Director is non-political and its mode of appointment is unique among state posts. The Director is appointed by the state treasurer, but only upon recommendation by the State Investment Council.

CONSTRUCTION BEGUN

On N.J. Bell Addition Here. New Jersey Bell Telephone Company has begun construction of a single story addition to its central office here at 239 Nassau Street.

The addition, which will be 80 feet by 55 feet, will provide space for an expansion of electro-mechanical switching equipment. When completed in February, 1974, the central office will have a total depth of 161 feet.

The new addition will be constructed of reinforced concrete and will also include a basement area. Offstreet parking for 24 vehicles will be provided under the construction plans.

NEW FIRM FORMED

Astro Publications Inc. Astro Publications, 109 Nassau Street, has been formed as the successor to Astro Passbook Company. Officers of the new corporation are: Henry H. Patton, chairman of the board and Edward A. Salkind, president.

Mr. Patton, a graduate of Princeton University, resides in Skillman. Mr. Salkind, a graduate of Rider College, with a bachelor of science in marketing, lives in Allentown.

The company is now publishing "The Astro Pleasure Guide," a coupon book that can save the purchaser up to $1,500. It will be available for purchase by Princeton area residents beginning the week of March 12.

Planned for residents of Mercer County and many parts of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, the Astro Pleasure Guide is essentially a way of lowering the high cost of good living. The purchaser pays $6.50 for the Astro Pleasure Guide and has almost a year to use the 145 coupons contained in the book. Coupons can be used wherever the sign of the Astro Guide is displayed, — for buying everything from doughnuts to dinners, boots to bowling games, tickets for theater and travel.

The Astro Pleasure Guide will be on sale at each participating store or service outlet, as well as at local book store.

Idle Funds Put in 2 Banks

Taxpayers' money is put out to pasture for fattening in Princeton Township. Recent investments of "idle funds"—officials emphasize they are not "surplus" funds—were announced Monday night by Committee:

$40,000 in trust funds with the Franklin Bank at 5% for 30 days.

$25,000 in capital funds, also with Franklin at 5% for 30 days.

$50,000 in capital funds with Franklin at 5— for 30 days.

$20,000 in Federal Reserve Sharing money with Princeton Bank and Trust, 5¾ for 90 days.

$500,000 in current funds with Princeton Bank and Trust at 6 1-4— for 30 days.

$132,00 miscellaneous trust funds with Franklin Bank at 6¼ for 30 days.

Parking Problems to Receive Top Priority at Medical Center

A solution to parking problems at Princeton Medical Center was given "top priority" Monday by Center President Ralph S. Mason.

Addressing The Center's annual corporation meeting, Mr. Mason indicated the solution could take the form of a 200-300 space parking garage at a projected cost of $1.2 million.

While no specific plans were outlined, the board president announced a committee of Center trustees has been assigned "to give top priority to a detailed solution" to parking problem.

"However," Mr. Mason cautioned, "Any solution can only become a reality through the community's continued financial support."

Surgical Facilities. The president also disclosed trustees and administrators will begin plans this year for modernization and expansion of surgical facilities at The Center's Princeton Hospital unit.

"To provide new operating suites," he told corporation members, "will again require careful consideration by the trustees and a continuing commitment by the community."

Praising area residents for their "sense of responsibility," Mr. Mason also reported contributions to The Center's annual campaign had exceeded $360,000.

Those funds, he said, will complete payments on The Center's $1 million department of emergency service. Mason's annual report preceded his election to a third term as president of The Center's board of trustees.

A partner in the Princeton law firm of Mason, Griffin, Moore and Pierson, he will be joined by Dr. Robert S. Garber, director of Carrier Clinic, as vice president; Arthur N. Curtis, a retired RCA vice president, as secretary, and George Webster, a consulting engineer as treasurer.

Other officers elected at the board's reorganization meeting incude John R. Hoff, II, president of First National Bank of Princeton, as assistant treasurer, and Walter A. Seligman, Medical Center administrator, as assistant secretary.

John W. Kauffman was re-elected as executive vice president of the center, a position he has held since 1946.

Elected to their first three-year terms on the board were John R. Lasley, director of operations at Opinion Research Corporation, and Harold G. Logan, associate dean for community and allied health affairs at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, Rutgers Medical School.

Messers Mason and Hoff, Dr. David J. Rose and Anthony J. Maruca were re-elected to three-year terms.

COUNCIL NAMES HEAD

Mrs. Pearson Appointed. Janet Pearson has been named executive director of the Council of Community Services. She succeeds Nancy Gryzbek White, who left the Council in order to organize and administer Corner House, the drug treatment and referral center.

A long time resident of Princeton, Mrs. Pearson has served the Council in many volunteer capacities, most recently as chairman of the Council's Committee on Aging, which launched the Meals-on-Wheels program last year. She has also been a Council board member and trusete, secretary of the Health Committee, and a member of the Welfare Committee.

She was recently named to the new Joint Borough-Township Commission on Aging. From 1950 to 1960, she was a trustee of the United Fund.

For eight years, Mrs. Pearson was on the board of the Homemaker Service. She has served as scholarship chairman for the Princeton High School PTA, and the Wellesley Club. She is currently on the board of the Princeton Hospital Auxiliary.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part of all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15c.

first match and they won, 1247 to 1193. They were led by Steve Holtzclaw (343), LoriAnn Streit (319) Valerie Marshall (305) and Billie Parsons (280).

The veteran Junior team lost to the Farragut Junior team, 1255 to 1122.

PDS FINISHES 8-8

In Hockey. The 1973 hockey season came to an end none too soon for the Princeton Day varsity last weekend, as it dropped both games in its own tourney to finish with an 8-8 mark.

Since losing star forward Buzz Woodworth with an injury, the Panthers lost three of four games, beating only a weak Bryn Athyn team, 4-3. One more game might well have been one more loss, and the Blue and White would have finished below .500 for the first time in many years.

The tournament draw pitted Lawrenceville and Hill against each other in one opener. The two teams had played a 3-3 overtime tie two weeks earlier, and this time Lawrenceville had the edge — just barely — as they scored a 3-2 win, again in double overtime.

Lawrenceville trounced St. George's School of Newport, R. I., 8-4 in the championship round, a cakewalk after their Friday game

St. George's, playing with four regulars out with injuries, had qualified for the championship round with an equally easy 7-3 win over PDS in their opening round contest.

PDS played a better game in the consolation round Saturday morning, holding the powerful Hill squad to a pair of goals, but scoring none to lose 2-0.

Earlier in the week the Panthers dropped a 4-1 decision to Wissahickon Hockey Club.

TITLE HOPES ENDED

For Princeton Day Five. A shot at the Class B title in the State Prep School tournament ended for Princeton Day basketball team last Saturday. When it lost to Morristown-Beard, 86-70, at Pennington School.

The defeat closed out a successful season for the Blue and White, which ended 15-6, a better mark than last season, against much tougher competition.

If there was any disappointment to be found, it might revolve around the fact that the Panthers won their first eight, but then could do no better than 7-6 in the second half of the season. The competition got more difficult in the second half of the schedule, and with one or two exceptions, PDS was not quite up to it.

To the Panthers credit they were rarely out of any ball game, and indeed, it was a couple of the close defeats, like 73-71 to arch-rival Hun, that brings on the disappointment. In other games against Peddie, Morristown - Beard and Lawrenceville, PDS was just a bit outclassed.

Balanced against this was the fine victory over Rutgers Prep, 57-54, and the good showings PDS made against these older and more experienced teams. A young team, PDS should continue to improve in the coming seasons, especially if new talent keeps enrolling in the school.

Four players from the starting five will return next year, but the one who will graduate, Mark Ellsworth accounted for somewhere between 30 and 40 per cent of his team's scoring. Ellsworth's ability to put points on the scoreboard consistently will be missed, but his absence will probably make the QPanthers a more balanced team offensively. In the tournament game against Morristown - Beard, Ellsworth poured in 40 of his team's 70 points, to break his record of 38 set against Hun, but he couldn't do it alone.

Returning next year will be Ron Webster, who was second to Ellsworth in scoring, center Bill Martin, and both guards Evan Bash and Frank Konstantynowicz. If one of the reserves can move into the fifth starting position without undue trouble, PDS will again be a strong contender. Several other prep teams in the area will lose much more through graduation.

That 3rd Quarter Again. A weak third period again proved to be the Panthers' undoing in the semi-final game against Morristown-Beard on Saturday. After an even first period, PDS fell behind by five 43-38 at the intermission.

But the third quarter really ended all hopes, as the Blue and White could hit for only nine points, while Morristown got 20. Going into the final period with a 17-point advantage was more than enough for Morristown. It has beaten PDS earlier in the season 79-60.

There isn't much question that Morristown, which now sports a 19-3 mark, should take the title in the game against Croydon Hall.

Last Wednesday, perhaps looking ahead to the Morristown game, PDS just got by Jewish Education Center, 63-58. PDS frittered away an eight point halftime lead against JEC, and felt behind 56-55 with 2:20 to go However, PDS came back to score six straight points to end the threat.

Bash had eight of his 12 points in the fourth quarter. Ellsworth finished with 20 and Konstantynowicz, 13.

RECORD BREAKER: Senior Mark Ellsworth saved his finest game for the end, scoring 40 points against Morristown-Beord in o losing cause. The total broke school record by two points, which he also held, and upped his coreer total to 1,220, also a school record.

HUN ADDS TD RECORD

With Win Over Pennington. Hun stretched its basketball record to 19-4 Monday when it defeated a surprisingly-tough Pennington School, 56-51. Previously, the most games ever won by a Hun quintet in one season was 17.

Three players accounted for 40 Hun points — Biff HaRowell tossed in 20 and grabbed 14 rebounds, while Kevin Tylus and Brian Logue had 10 apiece. Tylus had 10 assists as well.

Rob Reisinberger with 10 was high for Pennington which dropped its 12th game in 21 starts.

PHS GIRLS OUSTED

By Shore Regional. Basketball has not had a happy ending at Princeton High School this year.

The girls' basketball team was eliminated from the state tournament last week by undefeated Shore Regional, 65-55. The victors are 21-0 while PHS, although suffering its first loss in 15 games, is still ranked sixth in the state.

"It was a combination of pressure and not having enough game experience," said Joyce Jones, coach of the Little Tigerettes. Down by 13 points in the third quarter, PHS came within two "but we never could get that tying basket," coach Jones said.

Actually, PHS outscored the victors from the flor but trailed at the foul line, 23-9. "You can't win a game fouling like that," said Miss Jones.

Denise Craig, honored last week for attaining the 1,000th point in her career, led PHS with 30 points.

The team still has two regular season games to play. It faces East Brunswick Friday afternoon at 3:30 in its final home game and ends its season Tuesday against Princeton Day School.

LEAGUE TITLE CLINCHED

By Conte's Bar. Conte's Bar clinched the league title in the Princeton Recreation Department Adult Basketball League last week when it easily disposed of The Students, 74-37.

In second place is the Post Office which lost to Conte's earlier when its star John Madden was injured early in the game. Kingston Wine & Liquor (6-3) assured itself of a playoff berth when it defeated No-Names, 81-56. Perks Construction has an outside chance to oust Ivy Inn from the playoffs but it must defeat Conte's in the last game of the regular season.

The playoffs will be held March 5 and 7, and 12 and 14 at the Princeton High School gym. Starting time is 7:45 p.m.

CANNON EDGES TERRACE

In Final Game. Cannon Club defeated Terrace Club, 37-34 last week to remain undefeated and win the Black Conference in the junior division of Dillon Gym basketball with a 10-0 record.

Despite the loss, Terrace finished on top in the Orange Conference with an 8-2 record. Tower Club finished second in the Orange loop when it defeated Cap & Gown, 37-30. In other final, regular season games, Cottage Club stopped winless Palmer Hall, 30-22, and Blair Hall outlasted Quadrangle Club, 35-31.

Semi-final contests will be held Thursday at 7 at Stuart School when Cannon will meet Tower and Terrace will host Cap and Gown. The winners will then meet in a best of three series for the championship.

Final standings in the Black Conference: Cannon Club, 10-0; Cap and Gown, 6-4; Blair Hall, 4-6; and Cottage Club, 3-7. Orange Conference: Terrace Club, 8-2; Tower Club, 7-3; Quadrangle, 2-8; and Palmer Hall, 0-10.

COTTAGE CLUB ONE UP

In Championship Series. Cottage Club defeated Cap and Gown last week, 41-34, to win the first game for the championship of the senior league of Dillon Gym basketball. The second game will be played Saturday morning at 11 at Dillon.

With less than two minutes to play, Cap and Gown, which had been averaging 60 points a game but was unable to penetrate the Cottage zone, led, 34-33. Almost simultaneously, Terry McEwen scored to put Cottage in the lead and Cap and Gown star Tony Lewis fouled out.

In the waning moments, Cap and Gown became unglued as the victors converted desperation fouls by the frantic Cap players. McEwen led all scorers with 24 points, while Tommy Moore and Lewis had 15 and 12 for the losers.

ANNUAL MEETING SET

For Tennis Program Here. The annual Princeton Community Tennis Meeting will be held Tuesday, March 13 at 7 in the Community Park School auditorium. It is jointly sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Office, the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton and the Princeton Community Tennis Committee.

All instructors, leader corps members and new trainees should plan to attend. Information and materials will be distributed for the coming spring classes which begin on April 7.

The highlight of this year's meeting will be the Margaret Court film to be shown at 8, prior to the business meetings. A widely known tennis champion and a strong advocate of physical conditioning, Mrs. Court made this film in Princeton a year ago. Many youngsters of the Princeton Community Tennis Program appear in the film as they demonstrate Mrs. Court's stroke techniques and conditioning exercises.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be recognition of the Community Tennis Program's junior players who received a ranking in the 1972 season. Those who attend are urged to bring used tennis balls and old rackets for use by the growing number of scholarship students in the program.

IC4-A Track Meet Here This Weekend

Seventy-four colleges are entered in the 52d annual IC4-A indoor track meet which will be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons in Jadwin Gymnasium.

Trials will begin as early as 10 Saturday morning, continuing until 4:30, with finals during the program in the weight throw and the long jump. Sunday's starting hour is 12:30, with the meet over at 4:30.

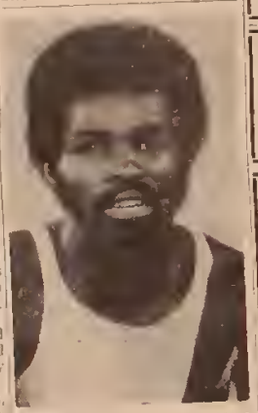
Navy, which won the Heptagonals, lacks the personnel to make much of a showing. The Tigers are not expected to be a strong contender in any of the track events, with Doug Greenwood in the weight throw their top man in the field events.

Seventeen events are on the two-day program, ranging from the 60-yard dash and 60-yard hurdles to the 1,000-yard and mile runs. Field events staged on Jadwin's main floor include the pole vault and the jumps — high long and triple. For the uninitiated in track, it is a picturesque, often exciting show.

During Sunday's program a tribute will be paid to the memory of Mattnew T. Goss who died November 9 at 84 after nearly seven decades as competitor, coach and official in the sport. Princeton's head coach from 1932 until 1956, he directed his teams to victory in 61 of the 110 dual and triangular meets in which they competed. In 1952, he was a coach of the U. S. Olympic team at Helsinki.

Tickets, available at Jadwin, are $3 per day general admission, or $5 for both days. Reserved seats are $3 Saturday, $5.50 Sunday or $7 for both days. Student prices are $1.50 each day.

THE BEST NUMBER to call for classified advertising is 924-2200.



GUEST COACH: New York Net and former Princeton University basketball player Brion Taylor will be one of the guest coaches this summer at the Princeton Day Sports Camp. Running from June 25 through July 27, the camp will feature lacrosse, baseball, soccer and basketball during different weeks.

News Of The CHURCHES

"ALERT IN OUR TIME"

Is Prayer Day Theme. Services will be held at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m., this Friday in the Niles Chapel of First Presbyterian Church, marking the annual World Day of Prayer. The theme of the day is "Alert in Our Times," around which women of New Zealand have prepared the service. It will be observed in 18 countries under Church Women United.

Mrs. R. Park Johnson, a YMCA officer, will address the 10 a.m. service. A graduate of Smith College, she taught in mission schools in Tehran, Beirut and most recently, until 1967, in a college in Tehran. From 1967 to 1972, she was business manage of a clinic in Lahore, Pakistan.

Miss Olive Haynes, will speak at the 8 p.m. service. A senior student at Princeton Seminary and assistant minister at Princeton United Methodist Church, her work at the church has included a special ministry to older adults. She is also working with the junior high program. Miss Haynes will be ordained in the Presbyterian church after graduation from the seminary.

The World Day of Prayer programs include participants from the local churches, international students and wives from the seminary.

Members of the committee of Princeton Church Women United planning the services are Mrs. W. W. Hudgins of First Presbyterian Church; Mrs. W. P. Starr, Religious Society of Friends; Mrs. William Vanden Heuval, Lutheran Church of the Messiah; Mrs. Harold Waxwood, Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. John Keigler, chairman, of All Saints Episcopal Church.

HESCHEL TRIBUTE IS SET

For This Sunday. An evening of tribute to the late Abraham J. Heschel, one of the leading Jewish religious thinkers of this century, is scheduled for 8 p.m. this Sunday in 101 McCormick Hall, Princeton university.

Speakers include Professors Bernhard W. Anderson of Princeton Theological Seminary, George F. Thomas of the University, and David W. Silverman of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

Also participanting: President James I. McCord of Princeton Seminary; Rabbi Hershel J. Matt of The Jewish Center and Rabbi Norbert Samuelson of B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation. Several students will read from Heschel's writings.

The program will provide perspectives on Heschel's life and thought. Co-sponsors are Princeton Seminary, the religion department at the University, B'Nai B'rith Hillel, Princeton Interfaith Council and The Jewish Center.

Professor Heschel, who taught Jewish ethics and mysticism at the Jewish Theological Seminary, was a rabbi, theologian, mystic, ecumenical leader and social activist. His writings include: Man Is Not Alone, God in Search of Man, Who is Man? Man's Quest for God, The Sabbath: Its Meaning for Modern Man; The Earth Is the Lord's, the Insecurity of Freedom, Israel: Echo of Eternity, and The Prophets.

FOUR STUDIES OFFERED

THIS COULD BE A STEAL!!

The appealing story and a half house pictured here has two fold value! First, the possibility of expanding the present two bedroom and study house into a roomy five bedroom, two bath (plumbing and second fireplace are already roughed in upstairs) home. Second, the investment potential of its almost five acres of lovely high land in desirable Western Princeton: a total of four lots for future sale. With land and house prices what they are, this property can be a hedge against inflation! Offered at $235,000

SPOT LIGHTS

Brand new ranch house on wooded ¾ acre with rambling brook. 4 bedrooms, panelled family room, separate dining room. Air-conditioned. $62,000

Six ± acres in fine residential zone. Woods, slopes, rocks, all utilities. A creative architect would be inspired by this land. Available as a whole or in separate 2 acre parcels.

A lot of space for the money! Five bedrooms, 2½ baths, family room. Large living and dining rooms. Central air conditioning, fenced and filtered pool, many extras. Edgarstowne location. Offered at $94,500

Unusually lovely older town house, large but delightfully livable. Completely renovated, tastefully and imaginatively decorated. Secluded grounds, landscaped pool, mature plantings, handsome trees Outstanding! $220,000

Draine REALTORS

CHARLES H. DRAINE CO. March 1, 1973

In West Windsor, on almost new traditional colonial. This house has had one brief owner, transferred elsewhere before being able to enjoy it as you will. With five bedrooms plus a den, plus a large family room among its spacious features. The house will accommodate a large family comfortably, a small family luxuriously.
Offered at $67,500.

A five bedroom, two and a half bath traditional colonial house for the purchaser who appreciates an immaculate house in move-in condition. Less than two years old, this colonial has been kept polished and groomed for you by its one former owner. The house is located convenient to commuting from Princeton Junction station. $65,000

Recently reduced, a West Windsor ranch house with many desirable features, but the greatest of these are the gourmet kitchen, and the open beamed and panelled family room. There are three bedrooms and a bath and a half. Offered now at $46,500

SON OF WOOD SHED FINDS NEW WEST WINDSOR HOME. Our WW drop off center is now on the Princeton-Hightstown Road at Joseph Testa's Upholstery Shop across from the Kentile rug factory (448-2860). You can see samples of stripped and refinished furniture, get costs and drop off furniture you want refinished or just stripped. All work will still be done in our country workshop 6 miles north of Princeton. As always we use the gentle Chem-Clean organic solvents to remove paint and varnish from all woods, specializing in veneer, inlay and laminates. No heat, water, steam or caustics are used so glued joints remain tight and the wood stays smooth and unbleached. Visit THE WOOD SHED at our new digs Monday-Friday or come talk with us at the shop on Bridge Point Road, off Rt. 206, Montgomery Twp Tuesday-Saturday (201—359-4777).

PREVIEW SHOWING!

Not just a home, but a hometown...

What makes Timber Glen at Allentown a kind of Hometown, U.S.A.? Not just the historic heritage of Allentown. It's really a community that's loaded with pure Americana and rich with architectural heritage that's evident in the many historical buildings and sites that dot the area. Not just the fact that it was in Allentown that Lauft ordered his planned troop's march preceding the famous battle. Or that Molly Pitcher, of the battle of Monmouth, was born here. Yes, Allentown is history. But that was the Allentown of yesterday. And Allentown is today. A great full town that can boast 250 years without a known violent crime in its traditional confines. A magnificent wooded setting that features the finest advantages for family fun and recreation: beautiful lakes for swimming, boating or fishing, golf courses, theatres, breathtakingly beautiful horseback riding trails and other diversions are nearby.

And Allentown is a friendly small town offering the conveniences of a modern community. For shopping, there are a number of centers close by on Rt. 309 and Rt. 33, as well as small local shops. The Allentown school system is regarded as the finest in the area. And for the commuter, it's ideally located. The new exit 7 of the N.J. Turnpike is just down the road, as are Interstate 95 at the short Rt. 130, Rt. 33 and Rt. 206. Commuter bus service to New York is in Hightstown, just 10 minutes away... and the Penn Central RR in Princeton Junction is just a 20 minute drive.

But... Timber Glen in Allentown is a lot more. It's more than a community with a heritage. It's one of today's most stimulating planned communities offering all the conveniences for the good life. All the quality features you'd expect in the finest suburban developments for your comfort have been thought of, planned, and provided.

This is the "from here" story of Allentown. Old fashioned friendliness. Old world customs. Home hospitality. Old time calm. Come see it for yourself... now.

Many people are frightened or discouraged when they finally realize that it's time for a move. How to sell the old house! How to buy a new one! Actually, the solution to these difficulties is just a phone call away. Of course, there are pitfalls to avoid, such as mistakes in locality, price, appropriateness of the house, etc., but any competent real estate broker can help you avoid these. The advantages are numerous—a house you will be comfortable in and arrangements quickly and correctly concluded.

Take advantage of the numerous services extended by those at WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. Tel. 924 0095. (Our Princeton number) 737-3301 in Pennington and 799-1100 in West Windsor. In business since 1885. Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5.

HELPFUL HINT:

Various programs of federally insured home loans permit one who is paying rent to pay the same amount on a home loan.

VOL. XXVII, NO. 52 THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1973 15c At All Newsstands

Prospective Tenants Eye Valley Road School, Closing Next June

Everybody, from opera singers to the tax collector wants to move into Valley Road School. The building on the corner of Valley Road and Witherspoon will be emptied of its young this June when it ceases to be part of the Middle School, and the list of applicants for all that classroom space, is long and eager.

But the answer is, probably, no way.

The Princeton Regional School Board isn't going to let go, at least not for a time. Most likely, Valley Road will stay firmly in the school board's hands for several years to come.

"We aren't making any commitments until we see the high school consultants' report — maybe this June," says Hannah Fox, president of the school board.

If the consultants recommend remodelling the high school building, Valley Road may be used for some high school students while remodelling is going on. These students would be housed — or classed — in what they call Valley Road's "new" section, the part built in the mid-1950's. The old section goes back to 1918 and is the oldest structure in the Princeton Regional School system.

Ralph Heymann, in charge of platting the future of Valley Road space, suggests that the school might be a high school "house," part of the freshman class, or any combination.

The VR gymnasium plus the cafeteria — which used to be a gym — would be fine for phys. ed. classes, at either the high school or Middle School level. Put a couple of mats on the cafeteria floor, Mr. Heymann points out, and you've got wrestling. Valley Road's playing fields, incidentally will definitely remain.

One of the certainties is that Administration, now housed in the Stony Brook Building on Stockton Street, will be moved to Valley Road. "But they'll move on a suitcase basis," Mr. Heymann warns, "we'll tell them they may have to move again . . ."

Such administrative offices as Special Services and the Wednesday Program, now assigned to various school buildings, would move into Valley Road also. So would the school's maintenance and carpentry shop.

A kind of weak "in" joke concerns the splendid Martin Luther King Library at Valley Road. It was made out of the old auditorium, and the joke is: "that library could be converted to a great auditorium." It would seriously be an excellent resource center for teachers, Mr. Heymann believes.

Who wants Valley Road?

First in line is Princeton Township, which has asked for space to accommodate its Recreation Office, perhaps part of its tax office, part of its engineering office.

"They'd be happy to take whatever space we decide they can have," Mr. Heymann reports.

Commercial firms have inquired
